Indoor track and field

The South Dakota State men’s and women’s track and field teams both secured third-place spots in The Summit League preseason polls, as voted on by the league’s head coaches at the start of the indoor season.

The Jackrabbits women welcome back five of last season’s seven all-league selections in Brooke Garner, Brittany Garner, Rachael Hakk, Jennifer Mack and Lora Shearer. Danielle Burke and Krista Creager, two members of the distance medley relay Summit League Championship team last season, also return.

The Jackrabbits men return all seven all-league selections from a year ago, including two champions in Jared Vlastuin and Jake Brinkmann.

Last season, the women took fourth place at the Indoor Track and Field Summit League Championships, while the men nabbed a sixth-place finish.

Expect senior Sean Burns to be a powerhouse thrower for the Jacks in 2011. Earlier this season at the North Dakota State Open, Burns bested SDSU and South Dakota collegiate records in the weight throw. His toss of 61 feet 10.25 inches bested his old record of 58-10.75, set in 2009, as well as the South Dakota record of 61-00.75, set by Dean Gillen of the University of South Dakota in 2001.

Burns earned The Summit League Men’s Indoor Track and Field Athlete of the Week for his performance at the NDSU Open.

Burns and senior Ben Jasinski were both ranked in the region, good enough for Burns to qualify for the Summit League Outdoor Championships ranked 38th.

Regional with a throw of 175-10.

Burns should continue to lead the throwers in the hammer throw. He holds the top throw at SDSU, which he bested six times during the 2010 outdoor season. His toss of 188 feet nine inches at The Summit League Outdoor Championships ranked 38th in the region, good enough for Burns to qualify for the NCAA West Regional.

Leischner led the sprinters last season with his record-breaking finishes in the 400 meters. He broke a 39-year-old record at the 2010 Howard Wood Dakota Relays with his time of 47.04 seconds. The time was the 35th fastest mark in the region, which secured his spot in the NCAA West Regional. Leischner also won the 400 meters at The Summit League Championships with a time of 47.18.

Krsnak led the distance runners last season with his time of 30:02.47 in the 10,000-meter run. The time was the best in the league by 46 seconds. It was also the fourth-best time in SDSU history. Krsnak held the third-place league mark in the 5,000-meter run and the sixth-place spot in the league in the 1,500-meter run prior to The Summit League Championships.

Kambestad led the second-best 5,000-meter time in the league heading into last season’s conference championships. His time of 14:45.99 was just over one second faster than the third-place time, held by teammate Krsnak.

Leischner, Foote, Gibbons and Schneller held the second-place league mark in the 4x400-meter relay with their time of 3:14.48. The team won the relay at The Summit League Championships, beating their previous time by just under two seconds (3:12.58).

Outdoor track and field

The men’s and women’s track and field teams should carry that strength from the indoor season into the 2011 outdoor season.

The Jackrabbits return nine of last seasons 12 all-league selections. For the women, Rachael Hakk and Michelle Schuch return, while the men return

Rachael Hakk led the women jumpers with her second-place league-high jump of 5-5. Hakk ended her season with a sixth-place high jump at The Summit League Championships with a leap of 5-3.

Michelle Schuch ranked third in the league in the hammer throw with her toss of 180-7 heading into the conference meet. She also ranked fourth in the conference in the discus and fifth in the shot put. Schuch secured a return trip to the NCAA West Regional with her season-best hammer throw of 180-7. The mark ranked 40th in the region. Schuch also holds the school record in the event with a mark of 185-2. Schuch ended her season at the NCAA West Regional with a toss of 172-1 for a 36th-place finish. In 2009, Schuch placed seventh at the NCAA Midwest Regional.

Rod DeHAVEN
Track and Field / Cross Country
Head Coach
Seventh Season
South Dakota State ‘89

Rod DeHaven enters his seventh year as the head cross country coach and director of track and field where he trains the distance runners for the men’s and women’s teams at South Dakota State University.

DeHaven was hired in the fall of 2004 and in his six years at the helm of the track and field program, the Jackrabbits have enjoyed an overall success not experienced since the 1980s and early 90s. During DeHaven’s tenure, school records have been established in 42 different events.

Since joining the Summit League in 2008, the women’s track and field team has garnered three runner-up trophies, two indoor and one outdoor, and crowed 12 individual conference champions. The men have been steadily building a balanced program as shown by their third place finish in the 2009 indoor championships.

While coaching the cross country teams, DeHaven has continued the long standing tradition of excellence at South Dakota State. In 2005, the men’s team captured the NCAA Division I Independent Championships, which was their 30th conference title in the program’s history and first at the Division I level. The men, picked fifth in the 2009 preseason poll, came from behind to win the Summit League Championship. The men won back-to-back Summit League Championships with a win in 2010. DeHaven earned back-to-back Summit League Coach of the Year accolades in 2009 and 2010. The women’s team won the 2006 NCAA Division I Independent Championship and the 2008 Summit League Championship, which were their ninth and 10th conference championships. In 2005 and 2007, they lost the respective conference championships by a single point on both occasions.

In the classroom, SDSU athletes have set a high mark under DeHaven. In 2005, Brad Lowery was awarded the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship for his achievements as a physics major. In 2007, Becka Mansheim was awarded an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship while majoring in nursing. Stacy Huss became the latest Jackrabbit to earn that same distinction in 2009. During the past five years, every men’s and women’s cross country and track and field team have earned recognition as an All-Academic Team from the United States Track and Field Coaches Association. The women’s cross country team has routinely ranked within the top-10 teams among all NCAA Division I institutions for their work academically, including a tie for fourth place in 2008.

During his four years of cross country competition, he ran to an unprecedented four North Central Conference individual championships and four top-10 finishes at the NCAA Division II national meet. With DeHaven leading the pack, SDSU also captured four conference team championships and the 1985 NCAA Division II National Championship.

On the track, DeHaven established seven school records in the middle distance events. Four of those records still stand: the indoor 1,500 meters (3:47.4), indoor mile (4:00.96), outdoor 800 meters (1:48.67) and outdoor 1,500 meters (3:40.17). In 1985, DeHaven was the 1500-meter champion at the NCAA Division II indoor championships and was third at the U.S. Junior championships, earning a spot on the national team where he ran the seventh-fastest U.S. junior 1500-meters all-time (3:42.34). The following year, he earned a Division I All-America award in the mile run, finishing eighth at the NCAA Division I indoor meet. All told, DeHaven earned 16 All-America certificates and won 20 individual North Central Conference championships.

After graduation, DeHaven moved to Madison, Wis., and continued to compete in cross country, track and road racing while working full-time as a computer programmer. As a self-coached athlete, he earned a spot on the 1991 U.S. team that competed at the World Cross Country Championships. Later that year, he finished ninth at the U.S. Track and Field championships.

In 1994, he debuted in marathon competition, posting a time of 2:14:48 at the Twin Cities Marathon. The following year DeHaven established his personal bests at 5,000 (13:40) and 10,000 meters (28:06), finishing fourth at the U.S. Championships at 10,000 meters.

Injuries hampered an Olympic bid in 1996 as he finished 10th in the 10,000 meters. However, in 1998, DeHaven emerged as one of the top Americans on the roads, winning the U.S. Half Marathon Championship, posting a time of 2:13:01 at the Chicago Marathon and winning the USA Road Running Circuit. In 1999, DeHaven represented the United States in the World Championships in the marathon, finishing 24th in Seville, Spain.

On a hot, steamy day in Pittsburgh, Pa., DeHaven came from behind to win the Olympic Marathon trial. Illness slowed DeHaven to a 69th place finish at the Sydney Olympic Games, but he came back in 2001 to finish sixth in the Boston Marathon (2:12:41) and sixth at the LaSalle Bank Chicago Marathon (2:11:40).

David St. John joined the SDSU staff full-time as an assistant track and field coach in 2009, after serving as interim assistant coach midway through the 2008-09 season, helping primarily with the jumpers.

During his time at SDSU, St. John has coached two conference champions and regional qualifiers in the men’s and women’s high jump and triple jump, with one triple jumper making it to the 2009 USA Outdoor Championships. The Jacks also had female athletes jump their way into the all-time top-10 list, four in the long jump, three in the triple jump and two in the high jump. On the men’s side, three athletes found their way to the top-10 in the high jump, one in the long jump and one in the triple jump.

Before joining the SDSU track and field coaching staff, St. John was an assistant track and field coach at Black Hills State University from 2003-2005 where he was the sprints, jumps and throws coach. Under his tutelage, the track and field team watched school records fall in the 55-meter dash, 60-meter hurdles, 100, 200, 400, triple jump, discus, weight throw and pentathlon.

Prior to joining the Yellow Jackets, St. John was the head track and field coach for two years at Augustana College (S.D.) from 2001-2003 where school records fell in the sprint and jumping events.

David made his move to the state of South Dakota from Middle Tennessee State University where he received his master’s degree in sport management in 2001 and was the high jump coach from 2000-2001. Prior to moving to Tennessee, St. John was the assistant track and field coach at Oral Roberts University from 1995-2000.

St. John started his coaching career at Arkansas State University where he was the primary coach for the jumpers from 1990-1995.

As a student, St. John competed at Arkansas State University as a high jumper. David is third on the all-time list at ASU with a jump of seven feet 2.5 inches. Following his career at ASU, he continued to high jump, ending his career with a personal best jump of 7-4.5.

St. John resides in Lake Norden, S.D., with his wife Kimberly and two children, son Gunner and daughter Greysen.

Lyndon McDowell was hired as coach of the sprinters and hurdlers at South Dakota State University in the fall of 2009 after spending the previous season serving as an interim assistant.

A multi-time runner-up in the decathlon and heptathlon in the Big 10 Conference while at the University of Minnesota, McDowell brings a strong background of practical experience in all event areas. McDowell continues to compete at a high level, currently holding the fourth-place ranking as a decathlete in his home country of Canada.

McDowell previously coached at Minnesota State University, Mankato, where he was responsible for coaching the jumps and multi-events. At Minnesota State, McDowell’s group captured several individual North Central Conference championships in the men’s decathlon, men’s and women’s high jump, men’s and women’s triple jump, and men’s and women’s long jump.

McDowell had continued success at the national level where he coached five Division II All-Americans in the jumps in both 2004 and 2005, as well as four All-Americans in 2006. Athletes he trained won four Division II national championships, as well as event titles at the Drake Relays and USA Championships in the high jump.

During his three years as a graduate assistant and jumps/decathlon coach at Minnesota State, the Mavericks won three conference championships.

McDowell holds the freshman and varsity pentathlon record at the University of Minnesota. He finished third at the Canadian National Championships in 2003, and earned fourth place in 2007.
Tyg Long began as an assistant track and field coach, primarily working with the throwers, in the fall of 2009.

Before signing with the Jacks, Long worked as the throws coach at Black Hills State University where he developed one of the premier throw programs in the nation at the NAIA level.

During his three years at BHSU, coach Long’s throwers collected 35 All-American awards, 28 all-conference honors, 11 national titles, three NAIA national records and one Olympic Trials qualifier in 2008. His throwers set all-time South Dakota collegiate records in the women’s shot put, hammer throw, weight throw and men’s weight and hammer throw.

In the classroom, his athletes accumulated 14 Academic All-American awards and six NAIA Champions of Character awards. In 2008, USA Track & Field recognized coach Long as an up-and-coming elite coach.

As an athlete, Long was the first South Dakota prep athlete to throw the shot put over 65 feet and still ranks second all-time on the South Dakota boys shot put list. Long won a state championship in the discus with a personal best of 182-3 feet and earned high school All-American honors after his senior year in the boys shot put.

As a freshmen and sophomore in college, Long competed for the University of Wyoming, earning all-conference honors as well as qualifying for the NCAA Regional Championships both years. Long finished his collegiate career at Black Hills State University as an NAIA All-American in the shot put, weight throw and hammer throw.

Long was also involved with the Iron Wood throws camp, spending four years as a camper and three years as a camp staff member before co-founding the Championship Throws Camp in Custer and Circle of Champions Throws Camp in Yankton, which he holds each summer.

John Franzen began as an assistant coach for the men’s and women’s cross country and track and field teams at South Dakota State in the fall of 2010 after servering as the graduate assistant coach for two years.

In his three years as an assistant coach at SDSU, the men’s cross country team won back-to-back Summit League Championships in 2009 and 2010, while the women took the first-place spot in the conference in 2008.

John earned his undergraduate degree in 2007 in Physical Education (Sports Psych.) at Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, and a master’s degree from SDSU in Health, Physical Education, & Recreation (Sports Pedagogy) in 2010.

As a student-athlete at Luther, Franzen was a three-time cross country captain. His team won conference titles in his final two season (2006 and 2007) and qualified for the NCAA Division III Championships finishing sixth (2006) and eighth (2007). In high school at Maine West in Des Plaines, Illinois, Franzen was part of the first cross country team from his school to qualify for the state meet since 1979.

Franzen has a personal best of 4:07.02 in the 1500 meters, 9:05.70 (indoors) in the 3000 meters and 15:30.32 in the 5000 meters.

As The Summit League concludes its third decade as an NCAA Division I athletics conference, the ascending level of performance among the 10 member institutions and over 3,000 student-athletes in 19 championship sports continues.

Now in its 29th year, The Summit League is in the midst of a renaissance, both on the playing field and in the classroom. During the 2009-10 academic year, the League produced a national champion, 11 All-Americans, eight Academic All-Americans and 33 Academic All-District honorees.

IUPUI’s Chen Ni made history at the NCAA Swimming & Diving Championships and highlighted the individual accomplishments in 2009-10. The sophomore became The Summit League’s first female national champion, and fifth NCAA titist overall, when she finished first in the platform dive.

Also garnering national recognition was Oakland men’s basketball player Keith Benson, who received The Summit League’s first national individual award for basketball performance in 2009-10. The sophomore became The Summit League’s first female national champion, and fifth NCAA titist overall, when she finished first in the platform dive.

The level of performance in men’s basketball continued to rise as The Summit League was one of just six leagues outside of the “power six” conferences to have both of its championship-game teams post 25-win seasons, making it one of seven NCAA Tournament wins, and the NCAA’s largest men’s basketball attendance increase.

A pair of former Summit League student-athletes gained individual acclaim on the world stage during the summer of 2008. Former Oral Roberts track star Andratti Bain won a silver medal at the 2008 Beijing Olympics as a member of the Bahamas’ 4x400-meter relay team after having claimed both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor 400-meter titles earlier in the year. Former IUPUI standout George Hill became The Summit League’s second NBA first-round draft pick when he was selected 26th by the San Antonio Spurs after garnering Summit League Player of the Year honors.

Originally formed in 1982 as the Association of Mid-Continent Universities and later known as the Mid-Continent Conference, The Summit League is in its fourth year of a rebranding that followed its 25th anniversary and coincided with the Summit Plan, a strategic plan that places a renewed emphasis on improving the academic and athletic performances of all league student-athletes. Included in the plan was the league’s new name, the creation of a new image and the addition of three member institutions.

The Summit League has a combined enrollment of over 125,000 at 10 member institutions: Centenary College of Louisiana, IPFW (Indiana University-Purdue University-Fort Wayne), IUPUI (Indiana University-Purdue University-Indianapolis), UMCK (University of Missouri-Kansas City), North Dakota State University, Oakland University, Oral Roberts University, South Dakota State University, Southern Utah University and Western Illinois University.

The national reach of The Summit League continues to expand with member institutions selected as hosts for NCAA Championship events, beginning with UMKC serving as a co-host for the 2010 NCAA Volleyball Championship. IUPUI will serve as a co-host for the 2011 Women’s Final Four and the 2015 Men’s Final Four and be the host for both the 2013 and 2017 NCAA Swimming & Diving Championships. League members were selected for several NCAA preliminary competitions with Oakland hosting the 2010 Cross Country Great Lakes Regional and 2013 Men’s Basketball First and Second Rounds and IUPUI serving as co-host for one of the four 2013 Men’s Basketball Regionals.

IUPUI’s Chen Ni became The Summit League’s first NCAA female national champion, winning the women’s platform dive at the 2010 NCAA Swimming & Diving Championships.

Last season’s Summit League accomplishments came on the heels of a successful year in 2008-09. Attendance and sponsorship records were set at the 2009 Basketball Championships, the inaugural season in Sioux Falls. Furthermore, The League saw unprecedented three teams end the season with a national ranking, a total of seven NCAA Tournament wins, and the NCAA's first national individual award for basketball performance in 2009-10. The sophomore became The Summit League’s first female national champion, and fifth NCAA titist overall, when she finished first in the platform dive.
One of the Summit League’s most iconic moments came when Valparaiso’s Bryce Drew hit “the shot”, a game-winning three-pointer at the buzzer, to top Mississippi in the first round of the 1989 NCAA Tournament. Valpo’s story captivated the nation as they became the league’s second team to reach the “Sweet 16.”

In April 2009, the University of South Dakota accepted an invitation to join the league with full membership beginning in 2011-12 and currently serves as an associate member for swimming and diving. The League has one additional associate member in Eastern Illinois University, which currently competes in swimming and diving and will join in men’s soccer in 2011. These member institutions pride themselves on providing quality athletic, academic and social experiences for their student-athletes.

The Summit League sponsors 19 championship sports: baseball, men’s and women’s basketball, men’s and women’s cross country, men’s and women’s golf, men’s and women’s soccer, softball, men’s and women’s swimming and diving, men’s and women’s indoor track and field, men’s and women’s outdoor track and field, men’s and women’s tennis, and volleyball. The league champion receives automatic bids to the NCAA Tournament in all applicable sports.

Since its inception in 1982, The Summit League has had several transcendent moments on the national stage. In 1986, Cleveland State upset third-seeded Indiana in the first round of the NCAA Men’s Basketball Tournament on its way to a berth in the “Sweet 16.” A decade later, Valparaiso captured the nation’s attention when Bryce Drew hit “the shot” to defeat No. 4 seed Mississippi in an NCAA first-round game and spark its Sweet 16 run.

More recently, Oral Roberts’ baseball program finished the 2004 campaign with a national-ranking and became the first Summit League school to reach an NCAA Super Regional in 2006. Three years later, North Dakota State’s 2009 softball team became the first League member to win an NCAA Regional and advance to the Super Regional round. During the 2008-09 basketball season, South Dakota State’s women’s team was nationally-ranked throughout the year and capped its season with an NCAA Tournament first round victory.

The League has produced five NCAA champions, four Olympic athletes and several All-Americans in the sports of track and field, swimming and diving and cross country. Numerous professionals and several draft choices have come directly from The Summit League, including three Major League Baseball first round picks, a pair of NBA first rounders and one WNBA selection. Former Summit Leaguers Kevin Duckworth (NBA) and Kevin Seitzer (MLB) each were two-time all-stars during their professional careers.

Recent and historical success coupled with an increased growth among its membership base gives The Summit League a promising future on the landscape of college athletics.

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS: The University of South Dakota competes as an associate member in swimming and diving and will begin league competition for all sports in 2011-12 with eligibility for all regular season and tournament championships beginning in 2012-13. Eastern Illinois competes as an associate member in swimming and diving and begin play as an associate member in men’s soccer in 2011.

SUMMIT LEAGUE IN THE OLYMPICS

Now in its 29th year as an NCAA Division I athletics conference, The Summit League is in its fourth year under that name. In May 2007, the Presidents Council embraced the Summit Plan, a strategic plan that places a renewed emphasis on improving the academic and athletic performances of all its student-athletes. Included in the plan was the creation of a new image of the conference and the unveiling of a new name. The Summit League is the third name the conference has held as an NCAA sanctioned league.

The Summit League’s current member schools are Centenary College of Louisiana, IPFW (Indiana University-Purdue University-Fort Wayne), IUPUI (Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis), UMKC (University of Missouri-Kansas City), North Dakota State University, Oakland University, Oral Roberts University, South Dakota State University, Southern Utah University and Western Illinois University. The member schools pride themselves on providing quality athletic, academic and social experiences for their student-athletes.

The Summit League sponsors 19 championship sports, which include: baseball, men’s and women’s basketball, men’s and women’s cross country, men’s and women’s golf, men’s and women’s indoor track & field, men’s and women’s outdoor track & field, men’s and women’s soccer, softball, men’s and women’s swimming & diving, men’s and women’s tennis, and volleyball.

The Summit League has had six athletes (from current league members) participate in the Olympic Games for track and field.

Media Information

Credentials - All requests for media credentials for SDSU home track and field meets should be directed to the South Dakota State sports information department at least 24 hours prior to the event.

Credentials will be mailed if requests are received a week or more in advance. Otherwise, credentials may be picked up at the Jackrabbit Ticket Office inside the Stanley J. Marshall HPER Center weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Due to limited seating, only working media will be allowed access on a first-come, first-served basis.

The following guidelines apply specifically to Internet sites:

- No more than two people working for the official Web site of the opponent and/or its official conference site will be issued credentials.
- Web sites whose content centers around message boards and chat rooms where users can post anonymous information and/or rumors are ineligible for any consideration for credentials or access.
- Credentials will not be granted to any agency operating sites that are in any way affiliated with gambling, or to freelance or fan-based sites that are not affiliated with a legitimate news-gathering organization.

The final decision for credentials remains at the sole discretion of the South Dakota State sports information department.

Statistics - The South Dakota State sports information office will keep official statistics and will distribute final statistics to teams and members of the media within 15 minutes after the conclusion of a meet.

On the Web - The latest Jackrabbit news and updates can be viewed on the Internet at www.Golacks.com, the official site of South Dakota State Athletics. Box scores, statistics and a meet recap will be posted within an hour following the conclusion of a contest.

Interview Policy - Outside of athletic events, interviews with South Dakota State student-athletes must be arranged 24 hours in advance Monday through Thursday by contacting the SDSU sports information office or the head coach of the sport involved. Please do not contact the student-athlete directly without prior approval — phone numbers of SDSU student-athletes will not be released.

Media members should understand that all return calls will be made collect or via a toll-free number, unless the student-athlete does the interview from the sports information office. Jackrabbit student-athletes will not be available for interviews prior to a contest day, but will be available for post-game interviews 10 minutes after the conclusion of contests by contacting a member of the sports information staff or coaching staff.

With a record enrollment of 12,816 students in the fall of 2010, South Dakota State remains the state’s largest institution of higher learning.

SDSU Early History
Located in Brookings, the Territorial Legislative Assembly authorized SDSU in 1881 to serve as the state’s land grant institution. Territorial Council member John O’Brien Scobey managed to secure Dakota Agricultural College for his city.

Although allocations fell short of the actual cost, the school did open in the fall of 1884 because the president, George Lilley, advanced $500 — one-third of his salary — to finish three rooms in the new Central Building. “Old Central” was soon joined by South (1885) and North (1887), forming the nucleus of campus for a decade and a half.

During the first year of operation, the college only held preparatory classes. College classes started in 1885 with five teachers, 17 freshman and 61 preparatory students.

Growth stayed slow and erratic for many years, but by the turn of the 20th century, 242 students enrolled and by 1990, SDSU enrollment grew to more than 9,000 students.

Colleges Established
SDSU has granted nearly 70,000 degrees since its charter in 1881.

The structure of the college became more complex as enrollments increased. The first nine chairs of instruction established in 1884 included agriculture, science, mathematics, English, modern languages, military tactics, veterinary science, practical business, political & domestic economy and music.

By 1907, the year the name of the institution changed to South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, there were 22 departments on campus.

Reorganization into the five divisions that formed the basis for the designation of colleges was completed under President Charles W. Pugsley in 1923.

In 1964, when “State College” became South Dakota State University, the school included six colleges. Now, students can earn degrees offered through eight colleges.

Students can choose from more than 200 majors, minors and options at SDSU with more than 2,500 different course offerings.

Master’s degrees can be earned in more than 30 areas, with doctorates available in eight fields.

SDSU also offers degree programs through the South Dakota Public Universities and Research Center in Sioux Falls. The Office of Academic Affairs and Outreach coordinates evening, RDITN, Internet and off-campus courses.

The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools accredits SDSU, while numerous departments on campus hold accreditation from various other agencies.

SDSU celebrated its 125th anniversary in 2006, a yearlong event that culminated with the 2006 Hobo Day football game.

Over those 125 years, SDSU grew from a campus of 80 acres in 1881 to a 271-acre campus with facilities worth more than $220 million.

The university owns or leases another 15,000 acres for research throughout the state.

The Printing and Journalism Building — now named Anson and Ada May Yeager Hall — underwent a $2.1 million expansion and renovation project.

Other recent campus construction projects include a $7 million expansion to Crothers Engineering Hall, the renovation of Solberg Hall and the building of a $9 million performing arts center, which opened in the fall of 2002.

A new residence hall (Caldwell Hall) and the University Student Union expansion and renovation opened in the fall of 2005, and the Enterprise Institute, located on the southwest corner of campus opened in 2004.

In 2005, SDSU spent more than $3 million to install new state of the art scoreboards in Frost Arena and at Coughlin Alumni Stadium.

Agricultural Research
The university reaches all corners of the state through the Cooperative Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station, offering service to improve the quality of rural life.

SDSU also sponsors the Center for Innovation, Technology and Entrepreneurship; Engineering Experiment Station, Office of Remote Sensing; Water Resources Institute; Engineering and Environmental Research Center; Animal
Museums & Attractions

The educational opportunities do not end in the classroom or laboratory, as South Dakota State University houses several facilities, including museums and gardens.

Dedicated in 1970, and expanded in 2000, the South Dakota Federation of Women’s Club first envisioned the South Dakota Art Museum in 1949. The museum’s collections include early Sioux Indian tribal art, the famed Harvey Dunn paintings of pioneer life and the exclusive Vera Way Marghab linens.

The State Agricultural Heritage Museum transformed the former Stock Judging Pavilion into a home for exhibits that record and preserve the agrarian heritage of South Dakota.

The 70-acre McCrory Gardens and South Dakota Arboretum, located south and east of campus, provide a beautiful setting for area residents and tourists to enjoy a stroll through the radiant colors and fragrances of one of the top 10 small ornamental gardens in the nation.

It is also recognized as an All-American Display Garden, one of only 13 in the nation. In 1993 McCrory Gardens was designated an All-American Judging Garden to conduct research on annual flowers.

Since 1985, private contributions made many new gardens possible including the Rose, Rock, Centennial Prairie, Iris, True Lily, Mum, Native Prairie Collection, Oak Tree Memorial Garden, All-Red Specialty Garden, Peony Garden, Shrub Rose Collection, and Children’s Maze.

In August 1994, McCrory Gardens dedicated the Mickelson Grove Memorial in honor of former governor and Brookings resident George S. Mickelson.

In 1982, they dedicated the area north of the formal garden to the planting and testing of ornamental trees and shrubs. The 45-acre site was designated the South Dakota State Arboretum in 1988.

The arboretum’s purpose is to test woody plants needed to protect agricultural fields and livestock from the region’s harsh environment, to provide hardy trees to shade our towns and cities, and to test ornamental shrubs for both durability and beauty.

SDSU Horticulture, Forestry, Landscape and Parks Department manage the arboretum and gardens. McCrory Gardens continues to develop more gardens, tree and shrub collections.

The Coughlin Campanile

South Dakota State’s most recognizable landmark may be the 165-foot Coughlin Campanile, the state’s largest chimes tower. A climb of 179 steps leads to a panoramic view of the city.

Charles Coughlin, a 1909 engineering graduate who later went on to become head of the Briggs & Stratton Corporation, donated the statuesque structure on the west end of campus at a cost of $65,000.

Coughlin laid the campanile’s cornerstone on June 10, 1929. Since then, its chimes call students to classes with the famous Westminster peals.

An alumni-sponsored project to restore the campanile was completed in the summer of 2001.

Named after a former SDSU President, The Hilton M. Briggs Library, the state’s largest, opened in 1977 and joined South Dakota’s statewide automated library network in 1988. Through the library, users can access holdings from all 10 of the state’s libraries, including official documents and more than 1 million other holdings at Briggs.

Adjacent to the campanile, Coolidge-Sylvan Theatre provides a restful, green haven for students since its dedication by President Calvin Coolidge in September 1927.

Over the years the outdoor amphitheater hosted concerts, graduations and inaugurations for university presidents.

Woodbine Cottage, the home of the university president, is a charming example of Queen Anne architecture. Built in 1887 by South Dakota Agricultural College’s second president, Dr. Lewis McLouth, the home is crowned by multiple rooflines. The house also served as a women’s dormitory, music hall and infirmary.
The Jackrabbits

Two theories exist as to how and why SDSU's athletic teams became known as the "Jackrabbits".

Most believe that the name "Jackrabbits" came from a story and cartoon sketch that appeared in a Minneapolis newspaper following a 1905 football game between the University of Minnesota and South Dakota State College. Many believe that a reporter for the newspaper, knowing of the preponderance of jackrabbits in the Brookings area, wrote that the SDSC team was as quick as jackrabbits. Many people believe that the school adopted the Jackrabbits as its official nickname from that beginning.

The other theory about the origin of the nickname came in The Jackrabbit, SDSU's yearbook. A poem in the 1907 yearbook puts forth the idea that the yearbook is called The Jackrabbit because a group of juniors wished to immortalize themselves by changing the name of the yearbook. Athletic teams followed suit, adopting the nickname.

Prior to the adoption of the Jackrabbit nickname, fans knew the school athletic teams as the Barn Yard Cadets as SDSU was known as South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in 1907.

The Jackrabbit can run at speeds of 30-to-35 miles per hour, with bursts up to 45, making it the second-fastest animal in North America, second only to the pronghorn antelope, which can run at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.

Jackrabbits are, properly speaking, not rabbits but hares, with longer feet and longer ears than rabbits. Most hares live in open country, whereas rabbits - like cottontails - live in brushy habitats.

Jackrabbits can grow up to two feet long, weigh from six to nine pounds, with ears up to eight inches long. Hares are vegetarians, eating tender herbs in summer, and woody twigs and bark in the winter.

Brookings, South Dakota

Named after W.W. Brookings, who came to the area in 1857. That winter, his legs froze badly enough to force doctors to amputate them. Undaunted, Brookings stayed and eventually became president of the territorial council and a judge in the state supreme court. In honor of his support of railroad construction, and possibly because of his stalwart nature, South Dakota's first locomotive was named the "Judge Brookings."

Situated at the intersection of U.S. Highway 14 and Interstate 29, about 20 miles west of the Minnesota border and 50 miles north of Sioux Falls, the Brookings community of about 18,500 people continues to grow. The community also houses several recognizable companies including Rainbow Play Systems, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing (3M medical products), Larson Manufacturing (doors and windows), and Daktronics, a leading manufacturer of scoreboards and display systems.

South Dakota Agricultural Heritage Museum

Originally constructed as the Stock Judging Pavilion, the South Dakota Agricultural Heritage Museum is now home to exhibits that record and preserve the agrarian heritage of the state.
Justin Sell
Athletic Director, South Dakota State University
Bowling Green, '91

Justin Sell, who served as an athletic administrator at the University of Northern Iowa for 10 years, became the 12th director of athletics at South Dakota State University on May 7, 2009.

“Justin brings a wide range of experiences from other Division I universities to South Dakota State,” President David L. Chicoine said in making the announcement. “He has a degree of familiarity with our athletic programs’ conference affiliations, and he demonstrates an appreciation for Jackrabbit athletics. Most importantly, he shares our common aspirations for the future success of our student-athletes and teams.”

At South Dakota State, Sell oversees the Jackrabbits’ 21-sport Division I varsity athletics program. Eighteen SDSU teams compete in The Summit League, while football competes in the Missouri Valley Football Conference of the Football Championship Subdivision and wrestling competes as a member of the Western Wrestling Conference. Women’s equestrian competes in Varsity Equestrian and the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association.

During his first year at SDSU, the Jackrabbits displayed success across the board, winning Summit League regular season titles in men’s cross country, women’s soccer and baseball and a conference championship in women’s basketball. The football and women’s basketball teams made postseason NCAA Tournament appearances. Sell also implemented aggressive marketing and fundraising initiatives that resulted in record average attendance for football and the highest number of donors and dollars donated to the Jackrabbit Club and through corporate sponsorships.

In the years to come, Sell wants to continue reconnecting with former Jackrabbit student-athletes and enhancing the athletic facilities while still maintaining success on the field, court, track, in the pool and most importantly, in the classroom.

In the classroom, Jackrabbit student-athletes continue to excel as SDSU claimed The Summit League’s Institutional Academic Achievement Award for the 2009-10 academic year. In the spring of 2010, 67 percent of Jackrabbit student-athletes posted a grade-point average of 3.0 or higher. Sixteen of 19 teams – indoor and outdoor track are combined into one men’s and one women’s team - held cumulative team GPAs of 3.0 or higher. Following the 2010 spring semester, the over 450 Jackrabbit student-athletes combined to post a cumulative GPA of 3.19.

Born in Salem, Ore., and raised in Columbus, Ohio, Sell most recently served as senior associate athletic director at UNI since 2006. His primary duties at the Cedar Falls-based university included sport management, oversight of the athletic business office, facilities, game management, summer camps and human resources, while also assisting in fundraising and corporate sponsorships.

In his previous roles as an assistant and associate athletic director at UNI, Sell managed facility operations and the planning of capital projects, including the $26 million McLeod Center and the $7 million Human Performance Center. He also oversaw the UNI-Dome budget and oversaw the development generation team to enhance marketing, development and ticket income.

Aside from his duties at UNI, Sell played an active role in the community as president of the Cedar Valley Sports and Entertainment Commission, the driving force behind bringing several major concerts and sporting events to the Waterloo-Cedar Falls area, including the National Wrestling Coaches Association National Duals and several youth tournaments.

Prior to joining the staff at UNI, Sell worked four years at Villanova University (Pa.), where he served as an assistant director of athletic facilities and intramural director before being named director of ticket operations.

Sell earned his bachelor’s degree in sport management from Bowling Green State University (Ohio) in 1991 and completed a master’s degree in physical education/sport administration at The Ohio State University in 1992.

Sell and his wife, Jennie, live in Brookings with their four children: Abbie, Zach, Josh and Eric.
