SDSU, Paula Motors Team Up for Invitational

South Dakota State University, through the sponsorship of Paula Motors of Brookings, will present a two-day soccer tournament at Bob Shelden Field in September.

The four-team field consists of SDSU, Southwest State University, Missouri Southern State College and Rockhurst University.

The tournament will follow a classic format with each team playing two games — one on Friday, Sept. 7 and again on Sunday, Sept. 9. The games will kick off a nine-game home season for SDSU.

Rockhurst, a Division II independent located in Kansas City, wrapped up the 2000 season with an 8-11 record. The Hawks return nine starters from a year ago.

Missouri Southern, a member of the Mid-American Intercollegiate Athletics Association, returns eight starters from a team which completed its second year of competition with a 5-11 mark in 2000. The Lions make the trip from Joplin, Mo.

Southwest State, which competes in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference, rounds out the tournament field. The Mustangs finished their 2000 campaign with a 9-10-1 mark and return a solid nucleus.

Entering his second year at the helm of the South Dakota State University women’s soccer team, Lang Wedemeyer hopes to be rewarded for his work in establishing a new program.

“Last year’s team will always have a special place in the history of SDSU soccer,” Wedemeyer said. “The girls that remain on the team will help us lead a new generation of freshmen into a higher level of regional competitiveness.”

In addition to starting the women’s soccer program at SDSU, Wedemeyer also has been involved in other aspects of the South Dakota soccer community. In January, he was named the National Soccer Coaches Association of America regional director, overseeing all the coaching certification in the Dakotas and Nebraska. He has traveled throughout the state conducting coaching certification and running clinics over the past year.

Wedemeyer also was on the Olympic Development Program Region II staff this past summer. He had the opportunity to train the top players in various age groups from 13 states throughout the Upper Midwest.

A native of Roanoke, Va., Wedemeyer was director of coaching and women’s coordinator for the Roanoke Valley Youth Soccer Club prior to taking over the SDSU women’s program. His three-year tenure as the club’s assistant executive director included overseeing all 28 teams and their coaches, as well as coaching under-18 and under-14 girls soccer teams. Wedemeyer also served three years as the director of the Western District Olympic Development Program for girls and boys and coached the under-14 Virginia Olympic Development Team for two seasons.

One of the youngest coaches in the United States to obtain all levels of coaching certification, Wedemeyer holds six professional soccer coaching licenses, including the NSCAA Premier diploma.

Wedemeyer began his collegiate playing career at Virginia Tech University, where he was the voted the Hokies’ best defensive player two years in a row. He later transferred to Old Dominion University, where he captained the team and earned second-team academic All-America honors in 1994.

Wedemeyer earned a bachelor’s degree in English in 1994 and added a master’s degree in sports management from Old Dominion in 1996.

While pursuing his master’s degree, Wedemeyer served three years as an assistant coach for the Old Dominion men’s soccer program. In addition, his coaching experience consists of appearances at several soccer camps and clinics, including serving as head counselor of the University of North Carolina Women’s Soccer Camp since 1995.

Wedemeyer also has extensive professional playing experience in the United Soccer Leagues. He played three years for his hometown Roanoke Wrath before playing with the Sioux Falls Spitfire at the beginning of the team’s first season in 2001.

Jackrabbits to Have New Home in 2003

The South Dakota State University women’s soccer team will have a new home beginning in the 2003 season with the completion of the First National Bank Soccer Complex.

The 10-field complex will cover nearly 80 acres and includes a stadium venue, which will seat an estimated 1,500 spectators. The lighted stadium field will serve as home field for the SDSU women’s soccer team.

“The opportunity to have a solidified soccer-only stadium for our home games will put us on par with some of the top programs nationally in Division II,” SDSU head coach Lang Wedemeyer said.

Land for the complex, which is located at the intersection of Medary Avenue and 20th Street South, was donated by the Fishback family of Brookings, representatives of First National Bank of Brookings.

SDSU plans to continue to play at Bob Shelden Field near Brookings High School until completion of the new complex, which is located about 12 blocks south of the Jackrabbits’ current home. Grading of the complex began over the summer with a completion date set for the spring of 2003.

The estimated $1 million project is a joint project between the City of Brookings, SDSU, the Brookings Soccer Association and private citizens.

The largest portion of the funding will come from the city’s second-penny sales tax revenue. A $75,000 grant from the United States Soccer Foundation to pay for such items as irrigation and soccer goals also has been secured.

In addition, more than $150,000 has been collected through field sponsorships from community service clubs, Brookings businesses, the Brookings Soccer Association, and by four Brookings families.

SDSU’s portion of the cost will go toward lighting at the stadium field.
PEGGY GORDON ELLIOTT
President

Dr. Peggy Gordon Elliott became South Dakota State University’s 18th president on January 1, 1998, following the retirement of Robert T. Wagner.

Before becoming president of SDSU, Elliott was a senior fellow and acting vice president for Academic and International Programs at the American Association of State Colleges and Universities in Washington, D.C.

She has extensive collegiate education leadership experience at The University of Akron, where she served as president from 1992 to 1996, and Indiana University Northwest, where she served as chancellor from 1983 to 1992.

Elliott earned her doctorate in secondary education from Indiana University, her master’s degree in English and secondary education from Northwestern University, and her bachelor’s degree from Transylvania University. She taught high school in Gary, Indiana, and moved into various teaching and administrative positions in the Indiana University system.

She amassed a broad range of national experience and made extensive contacts in the Washington community. Elliott currently serves on the corporate boards of Lubrizol Corporation and A. Shulman Incorporated.

FRED OIEN
Athletic Director

Dr. Fred Oien became the 11th director of athletics at South Dakota State University on July 1, 1990.

Oien earned his bachelor’s degree at SDSU in 1972 and has been on the SDSU staff since 1979, serving as athletic business/ticket manager from 1981 until his appointment as director of athletics. Oien is a 1968 graduate of Baltic (S.D.) High School. He added a master’s degree at SDSU in 1975, then completed his doctorate (Ed.D) at the University of Massachusetts-Amherst in 1979.

Oien taught physical education and health at the Brookings Middle School from 1973-76, during which time he was varsity golf coach for both boys and girls, and middle school basketball and football coach. His golf teams won state championships for both boys and girls. Oien also was women’s golf coach at SDSU, guiding the Jackrabbits to one North Central Conference championship. The SDSU women’s golf team of 1982 was voted South Dakota Women’s College Team of the Year.

He and his wife, Mary have two children.

NANCY NEIBER
Sr. Women’s Administrator

A familiar face in Jackrabbit athletics, Nancy Neiber became South Dakota State University’s first senior women’s administrator when she stepped down as head women’s basketball coach in June 2000.

Her duties include sport supervision, fund-raising, public relations, overseeing student-athlete programs and instruction in HPER academic programs.

The winningest basketball coach in SDSU history with a 301-140 record, Neiber coached the Jackrabbits for 16 seasons (1984-2000) and led SDSU to 14 consecutive winning seasons, two second-place finishes in the North Central Conference and six NCAA post-season appearances. Six times Neiber-coached teams won 20 games in a season, including two school-record 25-win seasons.

A native of Pierre, Neiber came to SDSU after coaching at both the high school and collegiate levels in South Dakota. A 1969 graduate of Black Hills State, Neiber’s previous collegiate coaching experience was as a graduate assistant at SDSU and as an assistant coach at Dakota State. She also spent seven seasons as head girls basketball coach at Mitchell High School, leading the Kernels to three state tournament appearances.

MYLO HELLICKSON
Faculty Representative

Dr. Mylo Hellickson has been South Dakota State University’s faculty representative to the North Central Conference and NCAA since 1977, and as such also is chairman of the Athletic, Intramural and Recreation Committee on campus.

Hellickson recently returned to the classroom as a professor in agricultural engineering after serving several years as director of agriculture extension at SDSU. He has been on the SDSU staff since 1969, serving as a professor in agricultural engineering until he was appointed as head of that department during the summer of 1982.

Dr. Hellickson’s specialty has been in the area of livestock structures and environment with recent emphasis on solar energy use in agriculture.

A native of Belfield, N.D., he earned a bachelor’s degree in agricultural engineering from North Dakota State University in 1964, added a master’s degree in ag engineering from NDSU in 1966, then earned a Ph.D. in engineering at West Virginia University in 1969.

Hellickson was presented the North Central Conference Meritorious Service Award at the November 1990 meeting.
The South Dakota State University women’s soccer team will have a lot of new faces and some familiar faces in new places when it opens the 2001 season.

Only six players return from last year’s inaugural-season squad which finished the 2000 campaign with a 5-12 record, including a 1-8 mark in North Central Conference play.

Despite returning just the six players, none of whom are seniors, the Jackrabbits figure to have a more experienced team than in their initial season with the addition of a 15-member recruiting class consisting of players with extensive club and Olympic Development Program ties.

While 13 of the 19 players on the SDSU roster a year ago were from South Dakota, Jackrabbit recruiting branched out across the country to draw student-athletes from seven different states and England to make up this year’s roster.

“Last year’s team was made up of a very special group of girls that helped launch South Dakota State soccer into the NCC,” SDSU head coach Lang Wedemeyer said. “But I have to say that I am extremely excited to have the first true recruiting class coming in for this 2001 season.”

Jennifer Briggs, who led the team with 12 goals last season, returns in a captain’s role for this year’s squad. The junior earned honorable mention all-NCC honors a year ago as a midfielder, but will make the move to a forward position this season.

Joining Briggs on the front line is Josie Hutchinson, who is moving from a defender position this season. A team sparkplug, Hutchinson scored one goal last season while starting all 17 games.

Abby Duffy, who enjoyed a strong spring season, returns to her midfield position and will be joined by Erika Rounds, who is making the transition from defender. Each player recorded one assist during the 2000 season.

The defenders, led by returning players Becky Schwab and Melissa Speiser, will look to improve on their part of keeping opponents off the scoreboard. SDSU was outscored 52-23 last season, for a goals against average of 3.03.

Schwab enjoyed a solid freshman season in 2000 as she cracked the starting lineup for all 17 games.

Speiser is a versatile performer who played everywhere on the field for the Jackrabbits last season. She began the year as the starting goalkeeper and eventually moved to wherever needed in the field as the SDSU roster was beset by injuries.

“The returning girls worked extremely hard during the spring season and accomplished many individual goals,” Wedemeyer said. “I am looking for these girls to provide leadership both on and off the field for our 14 freshmen.”

Heading the incoming class is Janine Fagan, a junior college All-American last season at Champlain College in Vermont. A midfielder originally from Newcastle, England, Fagan scored 40 goals in her two seasons at Champlain and should team with Briggs to give SDSU a consistent 1-2 scoring punch.

“The newcomers will have a chance to step into the program and make an impact right away. The level of their experience will help them immediately with the rigors of preseason,” Wedemeyer said. “The big question is how they will adapt to the speed and physical play of college soccer.”

The Jackrabbits also expect immediate help on the offensive end from forwards Amy Goodrich, Alissa Berth, Susan Mason, Brandi Mazzuca and Anne Rounds.

In addition to Fagan, newcomers Carly Failla, Cassy Hitt, Michelle Rahe and Molly Scharfenkamp will vie for starting positions in the midfield.

Defenders Jennifer Hasis, Dessie Hoppes, Amanda Lee, and Brandi Rada will give the Jackrabbits a solid line of defense. Hasis knows Wedemeyer’s system, having played under him when Wedemeyer coached the Roanoke (Va.) Star club team.

Another incoming player who will have the opportunity to contribute right away is Brittany Frazier, who inherits the starting goalkeeper duties. The Laramie, Wyo., native was an all-state keeper who brings Olympic Development Program experience.

SDSU opens the season Aug. 25-26 at the NCC/NSIC Crossover in Morris, Minn.

With more than 8,500 students enrolled in the fall of 1999, South Dakota State University is the state’s largest institution of higher education.

EARLY HISTORY
Located in Brookings, SDSU was authorized in 1881 by the Territorial Legislative Assembly and serves as the state’s land-grant institution. Territorial council member John O’Brien Scobey, failing to obtain the penitentiary for Brookings, managed to secure Dakota Agricultural College for his city.

Although allocations fell short of the actual cost, the school was able to open in the fall of 1884 because the president, George Lilley, was willing to advance $500 — one-third of his salary — to finish three rooms in the new Central Building. “Old Central” was soon joined by South (1885) and North (1887), forming the nucleus of campus for a decade and a half.

During the first year of operation, only preparatory classes were held. College classes started in 1885 with five teachers, 17 freshman and 61 preparatory students. Growth was slow and erratic for many years, but by the turn of the 20th century there were 242 students. By 1990 SDSU had an enrollment of more than 9,000 students. Nearly 50,000 degrees have been granted since the college was chartered in 1881.

COLLEGES ESTABLISHED
The structure of the college became more complex as enrollments increased. The first nine chairs of instruction established in 1884 included agriculture, science, mathematics, English, modern languages, military tactics, veterinary science, practical business, political and domestic economy, and music.

By 1907, the year the name of the institution was changed to South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, there were 22 departments on campus. Reorganization into the five divisions which formed the basis for the designation of colleges was completed under President Charles W. Pugsley in 1923.

In 1964, when “State College” was renamed South Dakota State University, there were six colleges; today degrees are offered through these eight colleges:
- Agricultural and Biological Sciences
- Arts and Science
- Education and Counseling
- Engineering
- Family and Consumer Sciences
- General Registration
- Nursing
- Pharmacy
- Graduate School

SDSU also offers degree programs through the Sioux Falls Center for Public Higher Education. Evening, RDTN, Internet and off-campus courses are coordinated through the Office of Academic Affairs and Outreach.

SDSU BY THE NUMBERS
In its 119-year history, South Dakota State has grown from a campus of 80 acres in 1881 to a 271-acre campus with facilities worth more than $220 million.

Recently, the Printing and Journalism Building — now named Anson and Ada May Yeager Hall — underwent a $2.1 million expansion and renovation project.

Other campus construction projects in progress include a $7 million expansion to Crothers Engineering Hall and a $9 million performing arts center. The university owns or leases another 15,000 acres for research throughout the state.

More than 200 majors, minors and options are available with more than 2,500 different course offerings.

Master’s degrees are offered in more than 30 areas and doctorates are available in eight fields.

SDSU is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and numerous departments on campus have earned accreditation from various agencies.

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH
The university reaches all corners of the state through the Cooperative Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station, offering service seeking to improve the quality of rural life. Also at SDSU are the Center for Innovation, Technology and Entrepreneurship; Engineering Experiment Station, Office of Remote Sensing; Water Resources Institute; Engineering and Environmental Research Center; Animal Disease Research and Diagnostic Laboratory; and Northern Grain Insect Research Laboratory.

These units help strengthen the university’s growing commitment to research and support of state and local economic development efforts.
ABOUT SOUTH DAKOTA STATE UNIVERSITY

The Northern Great Plains Biostress Laboratory, which was dedicated in 1993, houses scientists who focus on research aimed at developing new technologies to protect crops and livestock.

Supplementing classroom instruction are the Harding Distinguished Lecture Series, the F.O. Butler Lectures and the Amdahl, Schultz-Werth and Griffiths endowments. Guest lecturers this past year included longtime White House correspondent Helen Thomas and noted historian and author David Halberstam.

Students may join more than 100 clubs and organizations active on campus.

MUSEUMS AND ATTRACTIONS

The educational opportunities don't end in the classroom or laboratory as South Dakota State University is home to several facilities, including museums and gardens, which highlight South Dakota history and heritage.

The South Dakota Art Museum, which recently completed an expansion, was first envisioned by the South Dakota Federation of Women's clubs in 1949, and dedicated in 1970. The museum's collections include early Sioux Indian Tribal art, the famed Harvey Dunn paintings of pioneer life and the exclusive Vera Way Marghab linens.

The State Agricultural Heritage Museum transformed the former Stock Judging Pavilion into a home for exhibits that record and preserve the agrarian heritage of South Dakota.

The State Agricultural Heritage Museum transformed the former Stock Judging Pavilion into a home for exhibits that record and preserve the agrarian heritage of South Dakota.

The 70-acre McCrory Gardens and South Dakota Arboretum, located south and east of campus, provide a beautiful setting for area residents and tourists to enjoy a stroll through the radiant colors and fragrances of one of the top 10 small ornamental gardens in the nation. It is also recognized as an All-American Display Garden, one of only 13 in the nation.

In 1993 McCrory Gardens was designated an All-American Judging Garden to conduct research on annual flowers.

Since 1985, private contributions have made many new gardens possible including the Rose, Rock, Centennial Prairie, Iris, True Lily, Mum, Native Prairie Collection, Oak Tree Memorial Garden, All-Red Specialty Garden, Peony Garden, Shrub Rose Collection, and Children's Maze. In August 1994, dedication ceremonies were held for the Mickelson Grove Memorial.

In 1982, the area north of the formal garden was dedicated to the planting and testing of ornamental trees and shrubs. The 45-acre site was designated the South Dakota State Arboretum in 1988.

The arboretum's purpose is to test woody plants needed to protect agricultural fields and livestock from the region's harsh environment, to provide hardy trees to shade our towns and cities, and to test ornamental shrubs for both durability and beauty.

The arboretum and gardens are managed by the SDSU Horticulture, Forestry, Landscape and Parks Department. More gardens and tree and shrub collections are being developed.

Perhaps South Dakota State's most recognizable landmark is the 165-foot Coughlin Campanile, the state's largest chimes tower. A climb of 179 steps leads to a panoramic view of the city.

The statuesque structure on the west end of campus was a $65,000 gift from 1909 engineering graduate Charles Coughlin, who later went on to become head of the Briggs & Stratton Corporation.

Coughlin laid the campanile's cornerstone on June 10, 1929. Since then, its chimes have called students to classes with the famous Westminster peals.

An alumni-sponsored project to restore the campanile was completed in the summer of 2001.

Adjacent to the campanile, Coolidge-Sylvan Theatre has provided a restful, green haven for students since its dedication by President Calvin Coolidge in September 1927.

Over the years the outdoor amphitheater has been the site of concerts, graduations and inaugurations for university presidents.

Woodbine Cottage, the home of the university president, is a charming example of Queen Anne architecture. Built in 1887 by South Dakota Agricultural College's second president, Dr. Lewis McLouth, the home is crowned by multiple roof lines.

The house also has served as a women's dormitory, music hall and infirmary.

STATE'S LARGEST LIBRARY

The Hilton M. Briggs Library, the state's largest, was opened in 1977 and joined South Dakota's statewide automated library network in 1988. Through the library users have access to holdings from all 10 of the state's libraries, including official documents and more than 1 million other holdings at Briggs.

THE BROOKINGS COMMUNITY

Today, Brookings is a growing community of about 16,000 people. Located 20 miles west of the Minnesota border and 50 miles north of Sioux Falls in east-central South Dakota, Brookings is situated at the intersection of U.S. Highway 14 and Interstate 29.

The community also is home to several recognizable companies including Rainbow Play Systems, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing (3M), Larson Manufacturing, and Daktronics, a leading manufacturer of scoreboards and display systems.
