2013-14 Jackrabbit Coaching Staff

Head Coach.........................................................................................................................Megan Rossiter

Assistant Coach......................................................................................................................Kamerra Brown

Barn Manager..........................................................................................................................Rachel Boone

Graduate Assistant....................................................................................................................Amy Mitchem

Graduate Assistant....................................................................................................................Natalie Gilbert
Megan Rossiter took over the Jackrabbit equestrian program on June 6, 2011, after spending four years at Drake Johnson Reining Horses in Wray, Colo., where she assisted in instructing riders, training and showing reining horses.

"I really enjoy working with the young women on the equestrian team," Rossiter said. "Being involved in a program with such great support from the administration, staff and community makes this a great place to live and work."

No stranger to the college coaching ranks, Rossiter began her collegiate coaching career at Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, Okla., where she helped coach the Western team, under head coach Larry Sanchez, as a graduate assistant from 2001 until 2003, when she accepted a newly created assistant coaching position. During her time on staff at OSU, the Cowgirl Western squad won the Varsity Equestrian National Championships in 2003, 2004 and 2006, and the reserve national championship in 2005.

In addition to Varsity Equestrian, the Cowgirls attained much success in IHSA competition. Rossiter-coached riders won 33 individual Zone championships, 18 Regional championships and seven national titles. The Cowgirls as a team also won Zone and Regional Championships in 2004, and the IHSA reserve Western national title in 2002.

Rossiter began her involvement with horses in her hometown of DePere, Wis., where she grew up competing in the AQHA circuits, congress and in the AQHYA World Show. She then competed as an intercollegiate rider in both hunt seat and Western events at Murray State University in Murray, Ky., where she participated in the National Student Exchange at New Mexico State University as a junior in 1998. During that year at NMSU, she competed with the Aggie equestrian team under coach Larry Sanchez.

Rossiter graduated from Murray State in 2000 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture with a concentration in equine science, and then earned a Master of Science Degree in Animal Science, with an emphasis on equine nutrition, from Oklahoma State University in 2008.

Kamerra Brown joined the Jackrabbit equestrian staff full-time on July 8, 2011, as an assistant coach working with the hunt seat riders, after serving as a graduate assistant for the 2010-11 and after a successful riding career at Delaware State University in Dover, Del.

"I am so happy and excited to work for a university where the community and staff gets behind their athletic programs," Brown said. "I also working with the young and talented riders on our team."

A four-year letterwinner and captain at Delaware State, Brown earned team MVP honors following her freshman, sophomore and junior seasons, and won numerous MVP awards at various shows throughout her four years at DSU.

In addition to her individual accomplishments, she helped lead the hunt seat team to the Varsity Equestrian National Championships in 2008 and 2009, where she posted wins in equitation over fences.

Before graduating from Delaware State in 2010 with a Bachelor of Science degree in animal and poultry science, Brown added to her athletic resume by competing on the Hornets track team as a junior, where she excelled in sprinting events on the traveling squad.

A Culpeper, Va., native, Brown started riding from 2004. She also earned all-state track and field honors as a sprinter in high school.

An active member in FFA, Brown participated in heart walks and stayed actively involved with student life, volunteering at local elementary schools and in the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC), including a stint as treasurer from 2006-09 and as president from 2009-10. Brown also topped a list of 1,800 nominations to appear at the 2008 NCAA Leadership Convention in Florida.
Amy Mitchem brought national level experience with the South Dakota State staff as a graduate assistant after a standout career at West Texas A&M University in Amarillo, Texas.

A four-year starter with the Buffalos, Mitchem competed in every competition during her career and represented herself, and her team, at the IHSA National Championships in Murfreesboro, Tenn., as a freshman and again in Lexington, Ky., as a Sophomore where she competed in both hunt seat events and in horsemanship. A knee injury kept Mitchem from competing in her junior year, but she discovered coaching, and assisted the coaching staff during her recovery. She came back strong as a senior, winning High Point Rider honors for her region and immediately advancing on to Nationals in equitation over fences, equitation on the flat and in horsemanship.

An education major at West Texas A&M, Mitchem graduated in 2012, certified to teach in the special education and in general education classrooms. An accomplished rider long before her days at West Texas A&M, Mitchem started riding at the age of seven and competing shortly thereafter. She excelled in competitions locally and internationally on numerous levels and on a variety of horses.

In addition to her equestrian skills, she served as an ambassador for her community as a rodeo queen, a youth mentor and as a founder of DREAM, an anti-drug and alcohol program.

Mitchem begins pursuit her master's degree in counseling in the fall of 2012 at South Dakota State and eventually wants to become a vocational rehabilitation counselor. She also wants to get further involved in feeder programs for equestrian competitions at the collegiate level, with the ultimate goal of expanding the sport and broadening the opportunity to those not currently exposed to NCAA/NCEA and IHSA programs.

Natalie Gilbert joined the Jackrabbit equestrian staff as a graduate assistant in July 2013. A Dallas, Texas native and a passionate rider and competitor, Gilbert competed in both hunt seat and western disciplines since the age of 10. She began her competitive career in the pony hunters and equitation, followed by a long career in the jumpers. She then brought that experience to the equestrian team at West Texas A&M, where she repeatedly competed in post-season Intercollegiate Horse Show Association competitions, advancing through regionals and zones to compete nationally. After her career with Buffalos, Gilbert started riding reined-cowhorses. Her first year showing, she qualified for the NRCHA’s Celebration of Champions and won a year-end award with the regional NRCHA association. In addition to her horse related success, Gilbert participated in and earned honors for her leadership and hard work, earning a selection to serve in the elite West Texas Agriculture Ambassadors during her junior and senior years. She also served as the youth director for the regional cowhorse association.

Gilbert graduated from West Texas A&M in 2013 with a Bachelor of Science degree in equine industry and business, with minors in animal science and English, and began working towards a master’s degree in curriculum and instruction in 2013 at South Dakota State. She eventually wants to teach at the collegiate level in an equine program and plans on pursuing a career in coaching collegiate equestrian.

Rachel Boone joined the Jackrabbit equestrian staff as the equestrian barn manager on June 22, 2012, after working on the staff as an undergraduate student. A 2012 graduate from South Dakota State, Boone oversees the day-to-day operations of the Nathelle and Lawrence DeHaan Equestrian Center, which includes the barn staff and the SDSU horse herd.

In addition to managing the staff, Boone hires the student employees, working with them and their class schedule to make sure all of the chores get done efficiently and properly. Boone works with the veterinarian and farrier to keep the horses shoed and up to date on their vaccinations and ensures that all of the equipment runs properly, which requires her doing minor maintenance and scheduling the needed tune-ups. She also keeps all of the required supplies of bedding, hay, grain, supplements and medications on hand that the facility needs for daily operations.

In addition to the staff, horses and the building itself, Boone monitors pasture usage to avoid overgrazing, and maintains the grounds around the equestrian center and offices.

An Aberdeen, S.D., native, Boone earned a Bachelor of Science degree in environmental management from South Dakota State in 2012, with minors in biology and geographic information systems. In addition to working at the barn for three years as a student, she played on the SDSU rugby team and participated in Air Force ROTC for two years.

An avid recreational rider, Boone earned three varsity letters in both volleyball and basketball in high school, and helped lead her team to four conference titles in volleyball and a second place finish at the 2006 state tournament, earning academic all-state honors from 2004-06 in the process.
Nathan Moe joined the South Dakota State staff as the head strength and conditioning coach in August 2005 and served in that position until being promoted to assistant athletic director for strength and conditioning in May 2011.

Moe works directly with the Jackrabbit football, volleyball, baseball and softball teams, and he also oversees the design and implementation of the year-round strength and conditioning programs for all of the Jackrabbits 21 varsity sports.

Moe came to South Dakota State after heading the strength and conditioning program at Eastern Illinois University for three years, where he oversaw the design and implementation of strength and conditioning programs for all 22 of the Panthers varsity sports.

Before his days with the Panthers in Moe worked as the assistant strength and conditioning coach at Rice University in Houston, Texas, where he worked with the Owls football strength program, while being directly responsible for men’s and women’s track, men’s and women’s tennis, women’s swimming, women’s soccer and men’s golf.

From 1997 through the spring of 1999, Moe worked as a graduate assistant in the strength and conditioning program at the University of Texas in Austin, where he earned a MEd in Exercise Physiology. He also worked in private business in physical fitness in Austin and Houston, Texas and in Fargo, N.D.

A Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and a USA Weightlifting Certified Club Coach, Moe also maintains certifications in the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association.

In May 2012, the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association honored Moe as a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach at its convention in Orlando, Fla.

A Minnesota native, Moe graduated from Moorhead State University in Moorhead, Minn., in 1996, with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Exercise Science. He also earned all-conference honors as a linebacker for the 1995 Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference champion Dragons.

Moe and his wife Colleen live in Brookings with their son, Zachary and daughter Kylie.

ASSISTANT STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH: ERIC ADOLPH

Eric Adolph joined the Jackrabbit staff as the assistant strength and conditioning coach in March 2012, after spending two years on the staff as a graduate assistant.

A Flandreau native, Adolph completed his Master of Science degree in Health and Nutritional Science with an emphasis in Sports Science at South Dakota State in May of 2012.

Adolph’s main responsibilities include working directly with the soccer, women’s basketball and baseball teams, while assisting with the remaining 21 Varsity sports. In the past, he also worked directly with the Jackrabbit softball, men’s and women’s tennis, men’s and women’s Golf, equestrian and cheer teams.

A 1969 graduate of South Dakota State University, David L. Chicoine became the third alumnus to sit in the South Dakota State University president’s office when he took office on Jan. 1, 2007.

The 19th president in school history met his wife, Marcia, whom he spotted in an English class to which he claims perfect attendance—after he noticed her there first, of course.

President Chicoine spent the majority of the next 30 years away from South Dakota State working in higher education at the University of Illinois, where he held administrative posts, including Vice President of Technology and Economic Development and Dean of the College of Agriculture.

While vice president at the University of Illinois, President Chicoine helped launch Illinois VENTURES, LLC, a seed and early-stage technology investment firm. He also reached new milestones each year in restructuring the university’s technology licensing offices.

As its dean, President Chicoine transformed the College of Agriculture, leaving it with seven academic departments and an Information Technology unit in place of the previous 14 administrative units. He raised $134 million in private gifts (surpassing the campaign’s goal of $115 million) and increased the endowment to $60 million.

Of the eight siblings in President Chicoine’s family, five attended State, including President Chicoine and his brother Jeff, who finished school here the year before him.

When President Chicoine graduated, he did so alongside former U.S. Senator Tom Daschle and several men and women who work at South Dakota State today.

At State, President Chicoine also met longtime friend and colleague Robert Todd, with whom he worked with almost 30 years at the University of Illinois.

The president and his wife, Marcia, live in Woodbine Cottage. Their family includes son Joshua, a Chicago-based musician; daughter-in-law Laura Ellsworth; granddaughter Sylvie; and their late son Jason.

President Chicoine serves as the 19th president of the University and the 17th to live in the historic cottage.

Justin Sell joined the Jackrabbit staff on May 7, 2009 as the 12th director of athletics at South Dakota State University.

“I love working as part of a team, and that’s exactly how we work at SDSU,” Sell said. “From President Chicoine, to the faculty and staff, administration, donors and fans, we all work together for the benefit of South Dakota State University and Jackrabbit Athletics.”

Sell oversees the Jackrabbits’ 21-sport Division I varsity athletics program. Eighteen SDSU teams compete in The Summit League, while football competes in the Missouri Valley Football Conference of the Football Championship Subdivision and wrestling competes as a member of the Western Wrestling Conference. Women’s equestrian competes under the umbrella of the National Collegiate Equestrian Association.

Under Sell’s leadership, SDSU athletics continues to make strides in athletic competition, in the classroom, in fundraising and in reconnecting with alumni.

Athletically, the Jackrabbits claimed a total of 10 regular and postseason league championships in five different sports since 2009-10. That success earned SDSU the Summit League Commissioner’s Cup all-sports trophy following the 2010-11 season, after a runner-up finish the year before. Also in 2010-11, SDSU earned the league’s Sportsmanship Award, an award voted upon by their peers.

In the classroom, Jackrabbit student-athletes continually post a grade-point average of 3.2 or higher in more than 70 different majors, which led SDSU to winning The Summit League’s Institutional Academic Achievement Award for the 2009-10 academic year and the Missouri Valley Football Conference Academic Award in all four years in the league (2008-11).

In January of 2011, Sell announced a partnership with Learfield Sports, signing a 10-year deal worth $13 million for SDSU athletics. Learfield Sports quickly established a Brookings-based entity known as “Jackrabbit Sports Properties” that directs all aspects of the partnership, including managing and selling multimedia and sponsorship rights for South Dakota State Athletics.

In addition to the deal with Learfield Sports, Sell directed the implementation of the Letterwinners Club, which provides opportunities for Jackrabbit Athletics to reconnect and stay connected with former student-athletes, while supporting current student-athletes at South Dakota State.

In the years to come, Sell wants to continue reconnecting with former Jackrabbit student-athletes and enhancing the athletic facilities while still maintaining success, both in competition, but more importantly, in the classroom.

On the facilities front, Sell oversaw the completion of the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center in 2010, and developed the 2025 SDSU Athletic Facilities Master Plan. Additionally, Sell spearheaded efforts to add permanent seating and a press box at Erv Huether Field, chairback seating in both Frost Arena and Coughlin-Alumni Stadium and continues working towards the building of an indoor practice facility and football stadium.

Born in Salem, Ore., and raised in Columbus, Ohio, Sell came to South Dakota State from the University of Northern Iowa, where he worked in various roles, both at the university and in the community for 10 years. He also worked at Villanova University, Syracuse University, Ohio State University and Bowling Green State University. Sell gained further experience working in the private sector for various sports teams and events.

In the Brookings community, where Sell lives with his wife, Jennie, and their four children: Abbie, Zach, Josh and Eric, he serves as Vice President of the Brookings Chamber of Commerce, Vice President for the Brookings Friends of Baseball and on the Brookings Health System Board of Trustees.

Sell earned his bachelor’s degree in sport management at Bowling Green State University (Ohio) in 1991 and completed a master’s degree in physical education/sport administration at The Ohio State University in 1992.
As the senior woman administrator, she helps to create an environment where staff and student-athletes can achieve their goals.

Heylens recently accepted an appointment of a four-year term on the NCAA Division I Legislative Council, which serves as the primary legislative body in the Division I governance structure. She also accepted an appointment to the four-member Legislative Council Administrative Committee, which acts on behalf of the full Legislative Council between meetings to transact routine items of business.

She also serves on the NCAA Division I Football Championship Subdivision Governance Committee.

Rob Peterson joined the South Dakota State staff as an assistant athletic director for internal operations in April 2000. Now the Jackrabbits senior associate athletic director for internal affairs, Peterson supervises the Jackrabbit athletic department internal operations, with a primary focus on the day-to-day operations of the department, special projects, football scheduling, strategic planning and new facility development.

Peterson also serves as the sports supervisor for football, equestrian, baseball, swimming and diving and track and cross country at South Dakota State.

Before joining the SDSU staff, Peterson worked as the coordinator of athletic facilities, events and projects for Fresno State University from 1997-2000. In this position, his responsibilities included the oversight of seven athletic venues and the game operations for 10 sports.

Prior to his time at Fresno State, Peterson served as assistant director of recreation – facilities and events at Northern Michigan University from 1995-97. This position provided him the opportunity to supervise events and operations for the Superior Dome on the campus of NMU.

Peterson started his career at Northern Michigan as the director of sport clubs from 1994-95.

Peterson’s collegiate education includes a Bachelor of Science in Physical Education and Health from Northern Michigan University in 1992, and a Masters of Arts in Sports Administration from Central Michigan University in 1995. As the South Dakota State equestrian team enters the third year of the Megan Rossiter era, they prepare for another season of change. In her first season, Rossiter’s Jackrabbits stopped competing in International Horse Show Association events to focus exclusively on National Collegiate Equestrian Association events.

A year after shifting the focus to NCEA, and a year removed from their last visit, the Jackrabbit western team returned to NCEA Nationals in 2012, only to fall to Kansas State in the opening round. Last year in 2013, the hunt seat team joined the western squad at NCEA Nationals for the first time ever, and in another series of firsts, both squads advanced to the second round. The western squad rode to a 5-3 win over UT-Martin, while the hunt seat riders tied TCU 4-4, but completed the upset win in a tiebreaker.

More changes take effect this season when the two disciplines combine to form one team, which Rossiter thinks benefits the Jackrabbits, and gives them a chance top last season’s success.

“Our hunt seat riders performed well last year when we needed strong rides in every event to get our bigger wins, like the win against top-ranked Georgia,” Rossiter said. “We won’t know until we’re able to start competing some of the freshman how strong we can be this year, however we’re confident in the athletes we recruited. Advancing as a total team helps us, and makes us stronger as a whole than some of the other teams we compete against. I’m excited for the change.”

That much improved hunt seat team lost four seniors to graduation, including NCEA Honorable Mention All-American Lauren Kerr, and three more that rode at NCEA Nationals last season, but still returns a good group riders.

“In the hunt seat events, our strong returning athletes include Santana Wright and Jordan Goodall,” Rossiter said. “We’ll also depend heavily on freshman Natalie Howard and Blair Julia Wright.”

Wright rode in both fences and flat in all 16 events last season as a junior, posting a 5-11 mark over fences, with one MVP, and an even 8-8 mark on the flat, with a trio of MVP honors. She also represented the Jackrabbits at the prestigious Winter Equestrian Festival in Wellington, Fla., in February. Goodall gained valuable experience last year in both hunt seat events, making her best rides over fences, posting a 5-7 mark as a sophomore.

Senior Laura Dunlavy earned NCEA All-American honors in reining last year as a junior, and leads a young and talented group of Jackrabbit western riders that lost three experienced horsemanship riders, but only one reiner.

“I expect another solid year out of seniors Dunlavy and Shelby Webb, who both put together standout junior seasons,” Rossiter said of her western team. “Danielle Baker played a key role last year, even after we switched over into the reining. Depending on where we need her this year, Baker may be our only athlete to compete in both the reining and horsemanship.”

After the late switch, Baker went posted a 3-7 mark in reining after posting a 4-3 mark in seven meets in the horsemanship ring. Dunlavy competed in all 15 western competitions last year, posting an impressive 12-3 mark.

A skilled athlete and rider, Raivenne Scott rode well in her freshman year, posting a 5-10 mark with an MVP to her credit, so coming back her sophomore year with some more confidence and experience in collegiate competition should pave the way for further success in 2013-14.

Rossiter expects both Webb and sophomore Lexus Hoffman to play key roles in the horsemanship ring. Webb led all SDSU horsemanship riders with an 8-4 mark last year, while Hoffman compiled a respectable 5-6-1 mark in just her first year of collegiate riding.

After riding in an intrasquad scrimmage on Sept. 13-14 at the DeHaan Equestrian Center, the Jackrabbits open the season at the Willis Invitational, hosted by Baylor, on Sept. 22-23, with shows against UT-Martin, New Mexico State and the host Bears on the slate.

“Last year we started out the season with three straight losses against Texas A&M and Oklahoma State at home and Kansas State on the road, and competing against those teams just made us ride harder and better, and really prepared us for the rest of the season,” Rossiter said of last year’s start. “This year we start our season at the Willis Invitational with three meets in one weekend. It’s a great way to start the season, however it’ll be tough with a young team.”

The Jacks ride in the first of their five scheduled meets at home on Oct. 19, and then end the regular season by hosting the Independent Championships on March 28-29 at the DeHaan Center before closing the season at the NCEA National Championships on April 17-19 in Waco, Texas.

Did You Know?

The NCAA classified equestrian as an emerging sport in 1998, with six participating teams.

Today, 22 schools offer equestrian as a varsity sport, and more continue to add it each year.

Equestrian became the 21st varsity sport at South Dakota State in 2005.

HISTORY
In 1998, the NCAA classified equestrian as an emerging sport. At that time, six teams (Auburn, Fresno State, Georgia, Oklahoma State, South Carolina and Texas A&M) participated in the sport. Today, 22 colleges and universities offer equestrian as a varsity sport, and more continue to add the program each year.

The teams compete in a head-to-head format, where a rider from each team competes on the same horse. The rider earning the highest score on that particular horse wins the point for their team. At the end of the competition, the team with the most points wins the competition. A random draw determines the horse and rider match-up. Prior to their competition ride, each competitor gets a four-minute warm-up (five minutes for reining) to familiarize themselves with the horse and prepare for their competition ride.

This format of competition was developed to level the playing field between riders and to allow each rider the same opportunity on the same horse. There is only one elite level of competition for the four events.

The National Collegiate Equestrian Association was created to advance the sport of Equestrian from emerging to championship status with the NCAA by promoting the benefits of Equestrian to potential institutions, riders, parents, horse industry professionals and sponsors while developing the rules and format of competition.

Waco, Texas currently hosts The National Collegiate Equestrian Association Championships, where 12 teams earn a chance to compete. The NCEA Selection Committee invites these teams based on their win/loss record throughout the season.

The NCEA Championships are made possible with the help of generous sponsors, volunteers and donors of current universities and local horse trainers that contribute competition horses, tack and horse transport. Two nationally recognized and carded judges in both hunt seat and western travel to Texas to judge the three days of competition. More than 200 student-athletes from across the country compete at the championships.

Many people within the horse industry united together to advance the sport of equestrian to full NCAA championship status. In order to attain this goal and hold an NCAA sponsored equestrian national championship, there must be 40 Division I and II schools that sponsor equestrian at their institution.

THE NATIONAL COLLEGIATE EQUESTRIAN ASSOCIATION

MISSION

• To provide amateur equestrian student-athletes the opportunity to compete in a collegiate national championship event
• To promote for equal collegiate opportunities for female athletes through collegiate level equestrian competition
• To assist in the development of amateur equestrian student-athletes through collegiate level equestrian competition
• To promote the advancement of equestrian from emerging to championship status with the NCAA
• To generate growth of and interest in equestrian activity via the marketing, promotion and publicity of sport benefits to universities, riders, prospective student-athletes, parents, horse industry professionals and sponsors
• To support the enhancement of participating institutions who offer varsity level collegiate equestrian programs
• To preserve the integrity of the sport through ongoing rule and format development

2013-14 JACKRABBIT EQUESTRIAN
The Jackrabbit equestrian team made history in 2013, when both the western and hunt seat squads qualified for NCEA Nationals.

In their fifth appearance at the national meet, the SDSU western squad won for the first time at nationals, defeating UT-Martin by a 5-3 score to advance to the second round, where they fell to Kansas State, which went on to earn reserve national champion honors in western.

In their first-ever appearance at NCEA Nationals, the Jackrabbit hunt seat team scored a huge upset win over TCU in the first round by winning the tiebreaker by a 1,107-1,022 score.

The hunt seat squad fell to eventual national champion Auburn in the second round.

The South Dakota State Equestrian team is always looking for quality horses to lease or accept as donations for the program. Completion of the DeHaan Equestrian Center in 2008 more than tripled the team’s previous training facilities. At nearly 26,000 square feet, the $3.6 million climate-controlled facility features an indoor riding arena, 41 stalls, areas for grooming, washing and preparing the horses, as well as separate on-site work areas for veterinarians and farriers. The DeHaan Equestrian Center property consists of a total of 160 acres, with approximately 35 acres of fenced paddocks where horses receive daily turnout.

SDSU utilizes horses from both western and hunt seat disciplines. The hunt seat horses consist of hunters, jumpers and horses with backgrounds in eventing. Hunt seat horses with training and show experience on the flat and/or jumping over three feet are preferred. On the western side, SDSU looks for horses with training and show experience in either horsemanship or reining. In order for the riders to prepare for the level of competition in the National Collegiate Equestrian Association, SDSU can only accept horses that meet these levels of training and experience.

If leasing or donating your horse to the program is something that interests you, please contact SDSU Head Equestrian Coach Megan Rossiter by phone at (605) 688-4506 or by email at Megan.Rossiter@sdstate.edu.
Located along the U.S. Highway 14 Bypass north and east of the SDSU campus, the Nathelle and Lawrence DeHaan Equestrian Center became the new home for Jackrabbit Equestrian at South Dakota State University when it opened in the fall of 2008.

Dedicated on Oct. 15, 2008, project benefactor Nathelle DeHaan’s avid support of South Dakota State University and love for horses grew to make the SDSU Equestrian program and the Nathelle and Lawrence DeHaan Equestrian Center a reality.

A 1937 graduate of South Dakota State, Nathelle DeHaan provided the initial gift to build the facility. For nearly five decades, she and her late husband, Lawrence played an active role in the local horse community, traveling to judge and show quarter horses.

Nathaele DeHann died on Jan. 24, 2011 at the age of 96, but not before she realized her dream of seeing the day when young women could attend college, compete at the highest level and create experiences and memories that last a lifetime.

“The Equestrian program provides a wonderful opportunity for young women,” Nathelle said at the dedication of the facility. “I’m excited about the future of the SDSU Equestrian team.”

Completion of the building in the spring of 2008 more than tripled the team’s previous training facilities. At nearly 26,000 square feet, the $3.6 million climate-controlled facility features an indoor riding arena, 42 stalls with additional areas for grooming, washing and preparing the horses, as well as separate on-site work areas for veterinarians and farriers. In addition, the additional area for the horses, the building houses a team locker room equipped with a study area.

“The DeHaan Equestrian Center is a beautiful and thoroughly modern facility, equal to any collegiate equestrian center in the country,” SDSU Head Equestrian Coach Megan Rossiter said. “A facility this size allows us to provide a first-class practice and competition venue for our student-athletes and spectators.”

The additional space allows the team’s roster to eventually grow to 60 riders while continuing to offer the NCAA-maximum 15 full scholarships. The proximity of the Nathelle and Lawrence DeHaan Equestrian Center to the main SDSU campus makes it unique in the collegiate equestrian ranks and should allow for the equestrian program to become further ingrained in the SDSU Athletic Department as it continues to mature.

Once the SDSU Foundation completes fund-raising for Phase I, planning begins for the second phase of the project. Phase II includes the addition of a stall barn, a large outdoor riding arena, viewing rooms, coaching offices, a meeting room and trophy room.

“Completion of phase II would allow the program to continue attracting top-level student-athletes from around the country and help us enhance the growth of our equestrian program,” Rossiter said.

For more information on the SDSU Equestrian team, or to make a donation for scholarship support or facilities, please contact the Jackrabbit development office by phone at (605) 697-7475.
A new era of athletic competition at South Dakota State University began in the fall of 2005 as the Jackrabbits fielded their first varsity equestrian team.

Equestrian emerged as a natural fit with SDSU’s status as a land-grant institution with strong ties to agriculture. SDSU currently offers majors in pre-veterinary and animal science within its College of Agriculture and Biological Sciences, while offering coursework in equine studies.

The program formed in the spring of 2004, making equestrian the 21st varsity sport at SDSU, 10 sports for men and 11 for women.

Megan McGee came on board as the program’s first head coach on Aug. 31, 2004, and served in that position through the 2009-10 season. Joe Humphrey joined the coaching staff in the spring of 2005, and took over the head coaching duties on an interim basis from the fall of 2010 through June 2011, when Megan Rossiter took over the program.

During the inaugural 2005-06 season, the Jackrabbits put together a schedule that included head-to-head competitions against some of the top Varsity Equestrian programs in the country, including opening competition Oct. 1, 2005, at Kansas State. SDSU filled out its schedule by competing in Intercollegiate Horse Show Association events, something the team did through the 2010-11 season before switching exclusively to varsity equestrian shows.

During the 2006-07 season, Kaylee DeVries became the first Jackrabbit rider to qualify for national competition, earning a trip to IHSA Nationals in intermediate equitation on the flat. Also during the spring of 2007, the Jackrabbit Western squad earned a selection to compete in the Varsity Equestrian National Championships in Waco, Texas.

The SDSU equestrian program continues its rise in the collegiate equestrian ranks to this day. Eleven riders qualified for regional competition during the 2007-08 season, with four earning trips to national competition. The 2008-09 season saw 10 Jackrabbit riders qualify for regional events, and a school-record eight riders that moved on to national competition.

The Jackrabbit western team boasts a total of five appearances at Varsity Equestrian Nationals, now known as the NCEA National Championships, held annually in Waco, Texas, with the hunt seat squad making its initial appearance at nationals in 2013, when both teams made school history by becoming the first Jackrabbit teams to advance to Nationals.

Starting in the 2013-14 seasons, teams can only qualify for NCEA Nationals as one team, meaning that a school’s western and/or hunt seat team can no longer qualify on its own.

South Dakota State University provides its student-athletes the opportunity to train and compete in some of the finest facilities in The Summit League. Within the past five years, SDSU added or enhanced several Jackrabbit athletic facilities, including:

- Construction of new on-campus baseball and softball competition fields;
- Construction of a new equestrian center;
- Installation of new video boards and scoreboards at Coughlin-Alumni Stadium and Frost Arena;
- Completion of a practice soccer field

SDSU further enhanced its student-athlete facilities in 2009 with the completion of the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center. Located in the north end zone of Coughlin-Alumni Stadium, the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center houses an academic center for use by all Jackrabbit student-athletes, as well as new locker room and training facilities for the SDSU football team.

Construction on the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center marks the first stage of a master plan to dramatically modernize athletic facilities at SDSU.

The $6 million donated by Sioux Falls bankers Dana Dykhouse and T. Denny Sanford in the fall of 2007 set in motion the construction of the first major athletic building on campus since Frost Arena in 1973.

Future additions to the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center, which would be included in a comprehensive athletic facilities master plan, would house offices, meeting rooms and locker facilities for all outdoor sports at South Dakota State University.

EXCELLENCE

With an enrollment of 12,554 students in the fall of 2013, South Dakota State University remains the state’s largest institution of higher education. Students from all 50 states and more than 40 nations attend SDSU, a public, land-grant institution.

SDSU granted over 80,000 degrees since its charter in 1881, with degrees offered through these nine colleges:

- Agriculture and Biological Sciences
- Arts and Sciences
- Education and Counseling
- Engineering
- Family and Consumer Sciences
- General Studies
- Nursing
- Pharmacy
- Graduate School

SDSU also offers degree programs through the University Center in Sioux Falls. The Office of Continuing and Extended Education coordinates evening, RDTN, Internet and off-campus courses.

SDSU offers more than 200 majors, minors and options, with more than 2,500 different course offerings. Students can choose from more than 200 clubs and organizations active on campus.

Master’s degrees can be earned in more than 30 areas, with doctorates available in eight fields.

SDSU maintains a student-faculty ratio of 18:1.

The University as a whole employs more than 2,000 people, with a total operating budget of nearly $288 million in fiscal year 2011.
South Dakota State continues to experience unprecedented growth, both in enrollment and building projects.

Projects recently completed or currently under way include:
- The $48 million, 144,000-square-foot Avera Health and Science Center
- Daktronics Engineering Hall, a 30,000-square-foot building that houses an expansion within the College of Engineering
- The $6 million Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center
- A $7.8 million campus wellness center
- Union Dining Expansion, a 20,000 square foot expansion to the student union that adds 350 new seats and three nationally branded dining options at a cost of $8.3 million
- Four new residence halls currently under construction; Southwest Hall, Southeast Hall, Northeast Hall and Honors Hall add housing for more than 800 freshman and sophomores at a cost of $45.7 million

For more information on the new residence halls and the Student Union dining expansion, log onto www.sdstate.edu/campus/expansion

The SDSU Foundation’s “It Starts With State” campaign, a comprehensive fund-raising initiative designed to raise $200 million by the end of the 2012, with pledges and payments extending beyond 2012, continues to identify additional facility projects and enhancements to academic programs. Every college, department and unit stands to benefit from “It Starts With State” campaign. The impact of scholarships, endowments, facility enhancements, professorships, endowed chairs and the Funds for Excellence reaches every academic college and program on campus.

The Innovation Campus at South Dakota State University marks the state’s first and only university-affiliated research park. Located on 125 acres just east of campus, it provides an environment that fosters partnerships among the University, business, government and the community to grow the sciences and technology-based economy.

SDSU boasts the highest percentage of undergraduates involved in research of any South Dakota public university. SDSU is large enough to offer competitive research opportunities, yet small enough to foster student faculty learning opportunities.

Major areas of research at SDSU include:
- Engineering and technology research into photovoltaic devices, nanotechnology, materials science, wind power, surface transportation systems, signal and image processing, water treatment, computer sciences, software engineering and computational science and statistics
- Agricultural sciences research on crops and livestock, including food manufacturing, bio-based energy, economics and horticulture
- Management and conservation of natural resources
- Health sciences, nutritional sciences and wellness research programs in pharmaceutical sciences, nutrition and exercise physiology
- Renewable energy research develops bio-based energy technologies, while promoting diversification and environmental sustainability of America’s agriculture
- The federal government awarded SDSU and six other universities $69 million in federal funds over the next five years to serve as Vanguard centers for the National Children’s Study. The NCS studies more than 100,000 children from across the country from conception to age 21
South Dakota State offers 21 varsity sports with Jackrabbit teams competing at the NCAA Division I level. Football competes in the Division I Football Championship Subdivision in the Missouri Valley Football Conference, while 18 sports compete in The Summit League. Wrestling competes in the Western Wrestling Conference, while equestrian currently competes in the National Collegiate Equestrian Association.

Evolution of a Nickname

Two theories exist as to how and why SDSU’s athletic teams became known as the Jackrabbits. Most believe that the name “Jackrabbits” came from a story and cartoon sketch that appeared in a Minneapolis newspaper following a 1905 football game between the University of Minnesota and South Dakota State College. Many believe that a reporter for the newspaper, knowing of the preponderance of jackrabbits in the Brookings area, wrote that the SDSC team was as quick as jackrabbits. Many people believe that the school adopted the Jackrabbits as its official nickname from that beginning.

The other theory about the origin of the nickname came in “The Jackrabbit”, SDSU’s yearbook. A poem in the 1907 yearbook puts forth the idea that the yearbook is called “The Jackrabbit” because a group of juniors wished to immortalize themselves by changing the name of the yearbook. Athletic teams followed suit, adopting the nickname.

Prior to the adoption of the Jackrabbit nickname, fans knew the school athletic teams as the Barn Yard Cadets, which made sense, because the school went by the name of South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in 1907.

The Jackrabbit can run at speeds of 30-to-35 miles per hour, with bursts up to 45, making it the second fastest animal in North America, second only to the pronghorn antelope, which can run at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.

Properly speaking, Jackrabbits should not be called rabbits but hares, with longer feet and longer ears than rabbits. Most hares live in open country, whereas rabbits – like cottontails – live in brushy habitats. Jackrabbits can grow up to two feet long; weigh from six to nine pounds, with ears up to eight inches long. Hares do not eat meat; they eat tender herbs in the summer and woody twigs and bark in the winter.

COMMUNITY

Located in Brookings, a growing community of about 22,000 people, South Dakota State University sits 20 miles west of the Minnesota border and 50 miles north of Sioux Falls in east-central South Dakota, Brookings sits at the intersection of U.S. Highway 14 and Interstate 29.

Brookings and the surrounding area feature tremendous recreational and cultural opportunities. The city features a vibrant downtown area with shopping, nightlife opportunities and a new interactive children’s museum. Brookings also maintains an extensive park and recreational trail system, with two 18-hole golf courses, and serves as a gateway to first-class fishing and hunting areas throughout eastern South Dakota.

South Dakota State University also houses several facilities, including museums and gardens, which highlight South Dakota history and heritage. The South Dakota Art Museum houses several collections, including early Sioux Indian tribal art, the famed Harvey Dunn paintings of pioneer life and the exclusive Vera Way Marghab linens. The State Agricultural Heritage Museum transformed the former Stock Judging Pavilion into a home for exhibits that record and preserve the agrarian heritage of South Dakota.

The 70-acre McCrory Gardens and South Dakota Arboretum, located south and east of campus, provide a beautiful setting for area residents and tourists to enjoy a stroll through the radiant colors and fragrances of one of the top-10 small ornamental gardens in the nation. Adding to its honors, McCrory Gardens earned the distinction of being named an All-American Display Garden, one of only 13 in the nation.

The community houses several recognizable companies including Rainbow Play Systems, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing (3M), Larson Manufacturing and Daktronics, a leading manufacturer of scoreboards and display systems.

The South Dakota Art Museum is free and open to the public.

McCrory Gardens honors Professor S.A. McCrory, who headed the College of Agriculture and Biological Sciences from 1947 until his death in 1964.

VISION, MISSION AND VALUES OF THE SDSU ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

Every undertaking of South Dakota State University is driven by a common force — a relentless commitment to excellence. The Athletic Department measures excellence by much more than wins and losses. We commit ourselves to providing each and every student-athlete with a comprehensive collegiate experience that ranks second to none. Every decision that guides our program is made with the student-athlete in mind. Is athletic achievement important? Yes, because it’s the fundamental purpose of the student-athlete experience. Is Social Responsibility a vital component? Yes, we expect to contribute to the well-being of our campus, community and state. How about Positive Student-Athlete Experiences and Competitive Success? Those also define our program as an integral component to the student athlete’s growth. That is what student-centered means, and why our vision is:

VISION: To be a premier student-centered collegiate athletic program.

How will SDSU Athletics achieve that vision? By working tirelessly to create a special place where student-athletes who share our drive and determination can develop life skills that lead not only to athletic success, but paved the way for victories long into their lives. The important work of creating that setting is the heart of our mission:

MISSION: To passionately and relentlessly create an environment, rooted in sportsmanship and ethical conduct, where motivated student-athletes can develop into lifelong champions.

To become a lifelong champion, one must maintain a discipline of taking the highest road. Similarly, SDSU is guided by a stringent value set that will not be compromised:

VALUES: Honesty, equity, academic integrity, fiscal integrity and social responsibility with the expectation of competing at the highest level.
