His golf teams won state championships for both boys and girls. Oien also was women’s golf coach at SDSU, guiding the Jacks to one North Central Conference championship. The SDSU women’s golf team of 1982 was voted South Dakota Women’s College Team of the Year. Oien and his wife, Mary have two children.

The winningest basketball coach in SDSU history with a 301-140 record, Neiber coached the Jackrabbits for 16 seasons (1984-2000) and led SDSU to 14 consecutive winning seasons, two second-place finishes in the North Central Conference and six NCAA postseason appearances. Six times Neiber-coached teams won 20 games in a season, including two school-record 25-win seasons. A native of Pierre, Neiber came to SDSU after coaching at both the high school and collegiate levels in South Dakota. A 1969 graduate of Black Hills State, Neiber’s previous collegiate coaching experience was as a graduate assistant at SDSU and as an assistant coach at Dakota State. The year is different, but the goals are the same for the South Dakota State University volleyball team this season: contend for a conference title and a berth in postseason play.

Despite posting their seventh straight winning season and fourth consecutive 20-win season with a 22-9 record, the Jackrabbits missed out on making their third straight trip to the North Central Regional.

SDSU's 11-7 record in the highly competitive North Central Conference was good for fifth place, but doesn’t give a true indication of how close the Jackrabbits came to a magical season. Five losses during NCC play were in five-game matches.

“There’s certainly a feeling of unfinished business with the team and there’s definitely a burning desire to get back to the regional,” Jackrabbit head coach Mary Byrne said. “We know we have the chance and the players.”

In the 2000 season the Jackrabbits return a solid nucleus of eight letterwinners, led by two-time all-North Central Conference player Rose Ebnet. The lone senior on this year’s squad, Ebnet has topped the Jacks in kills in each of the last two seasons and enters her final year 351 kills away from passing Wendy Windschitl (1,510 kills from 1985-88) for the SDSU career lead. The Pequot Lakes, Minn., native also was named to the All-American Farm Volleyball Team this summer by Successful Farming magazine.

Also returning is all-NCC and all-North Central region selection Shauna Sturm. The junior began the season as an outside hitter and moved to the middle for the final three matches of the season after Aleasha Jacobson suffered a knee injury. Sturm finished second on the team with 369 kills and 39 service aces in her first season as a starter.

“I think we have tremendous leadership with Shauna and Rose,” Byrne said. “We will definitely look to them a lot this year.”

Sturm will team with either Jacobson or freshman Gretchen Gruber as the starting middle tandem. Jacobson, who is not yet at full strength, enjoyed a solid freshman campaign prior to her injury with 169 kills, 193 digs and 86 block assists.

Another player who enjoyed a fine freshman season was setter Angie Rime, who earned NCC Freshman of the Year and honorable mention all-NCC honors. Rime’s 1,260 set assists were the most ever by a first-year Jackrabbit player and already rank her sixth on the SDSU career set assist chart.

“Angie is a year wiser and physically she has gotten herself, I feel, to be the best setter in the league,” Byrne said.

Rime will have the opportunity to set to a number of other offensive weapons, including sophomore outside hitters Kelly Hoemann and Alison Schuster. Hoemann, who can also play in the middle, is a strong blocker who will start the season as a right-side hitter. Schuster gained more playing time as the 1999 season progressed, ending the year with 78 kills.

They’ll be joined in the front line by redshirt freshman Wendy O’Neill and first-year player Kristin Linderman.

“We have many more options,” Byrne said.

In the back row, SDSU returns quality depth with juniors Grethe Bornhoft and Daynica Drake, as well as sophomore Liz Archer, who returns to the Jackrabbit lineup after sitting out the 1999 season.

“I think we have a lot of players who have solid ball control, top to bottom,” Byrne said.

Drake and Archer also have seen action at the outside hitting position, while freshman Alissa Tepley can contribute in a similar role.

The 15-member team is the largest in Byrne’s eight years at SDSU.

“I think from top to bottom the level of play is pretty consistent,” Byrne said. “The incoming players have shown that they can hang with the returners.”

SDSU will play a tough preseason schedule which includes matches against Nebraska-Kearney, Grand Canyon and Minnesota-Duluth. All three teams were ranked in the top 25 of the American Volleyball Coaches Association poll at the end of last season, as were the Jacks.

“Our preseason will definitely make us stronger for the conference this year,” Byrne said.

The Jackrabbits open the North Central Conference season Sept. 12 at home against two-time defending North Dakota State.
MARY BYRNE

Mary Byrne has built the South Dakota State University volleyball program into a consistent winner and one that figures to be in the hunt for conference titles and playoff berths for years to come.

Byrne enters her eighth season at the Jackrabbit helm in second place on the SDSU career wins list with a 146-84 record. Byrne has guided the Jackrabbits to a winning record in each of her seven seasons, including a current streak of a school-record four consecutive 20-win seasons. Her .635 career winning percentage also is second on the SDSU career coaching charts.

In 1997, Byrne guided the Jackrabbits to the first postseason berth in SDSU volleyball history, placing second to the University of Nebraska-Omaha at the North Central Region tournament. The team’s 26 victories were the most for an SDSU team since the 1990 team recorded 28.

She was honored that season as North Central Region Coach of the Year by the American Volleyball Coaches Association.

The Jackrabbits made a return trip to the North Central Region tournament in 1998 and finished the year with a 23-9 record.

SDSU has held a top 20 ranking in every AVCA poll since midway through the 1997 season, and cracked the top 10 for the first time in 1999.

Two players Byrne recruited — Arika Sanders and Roxie Rath — have earned All-America honors.

Prior to coming to SDSU, Byrne, a Marshall, Minn., native, was an assistant coach at Southwest State University from 1987-90 and head coach at Marshall High School for two seasons. She coached the Tigers to a 26-4 record and a second-place state tournament finish in 1992, while earning Region 2AA and Class AA High School Coach of the Year honors.

Byrne is a 1985 graduate of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, where she earned a bachelor’s degree in recreation. As a setter for the Cornhuskers, she earned all-Big Eight honors three times (1982-84) and was an AAU Junior Olympic All-American in 1983.

She and her husband, Ken, have three children: Stephen, Zachary and Ashton.

JOHN SKATRUD

John Skatrud is in his second season as the Jackrabbit assistant volleyball coach.

Skatrud joined the SDSU coaching staff prior to the 1999 season after a successful season as head coach at North Dakota State College of Science. A native of Casper, Wyo., Skatrud led NDSCS to a 25-19 record and a berth in the state junior college championship in his only season there.

Skatrud is no stranger to South Dakota or the North Central Conference. He began his collegiate coaching career as a student assistant at Augustana College in 1991. After graduating from Augustana in 1993 with a bachelor of arts degree in HPER, he continued to work in an assistant’s role through the 1995 season, when he also coached volleyball at Canton High School.

In addition, Skatrud coached the Sioux Empire Volleyball Club team for two years.

Skatrud joined the volleyball staff at the University of South Dakota in 1996, a role he shared with his teaching and volleyball coaching duties at Vermillion High School.

Skatrud’s final season of coaching at the high school level was his most successful as he led Vermillion High School to the 1998 state championship with a 34-2 record. He was chosen as the Regional Coach of the Year and South Dakota Volleyball Coach of the Year. His overall high school record was 95-33.

Apart from her training duties, Olson is a clinical instructor.

A native of Bellevue, Neb., Liz is pursuing a degree in health, physical education and recreation.

JACKRABBITS EARN CONFERENCE, REGIONAL HONORS

The 1999 season was another banner year for Jackrabbit volleyball as SDSU posted its fourth straight 20-win season and several Jackrabbits earned individual honors.

For starters, Jackrabbit hitters Rose Ebnet, Liz Force and Shauna Sturm were named to the all-North Central Conference squad. It marked the second consecutive year that the Jackrabbits placed three athletes on the 17-member squad, and was Ebnet’s second selection.

Sturm later was selected to a spot on the 12-member American Volleyball Coaches Association All-North Central Region team, marking the third straight season SDSU has been represented on the team.

Two other SDSU volleyball players earned conference awards as Angie Rime was voted by league coaches as the NCC Freshman of the Year and senior Sarah Worklan earned conference Defensive Specialist of the Year honors. Rime also was an honorable mention all-NCC pick.

In addition, Ebnet earned a national honor by being named to the first team of Successful Farming magazine’s All-American Farm Volleyball Team.

JACKS EARN THIRD CONSECUTIVE AVCA TEAM ACADEMIC AWARD

Not only have South Dakota State University volleyball teams found success on the court in recent years, Jackrabbit athletes also have excelled in the classroom.

In the 1999-2000 school year, the Jackrabbits were one of only 13 teams in NCAA Division II to earn the American Volleyball Coaches Association/Molten Team Academic Award.

It was the third consecutive year SDSU volleyball teams have earned the honor, making the Jackrabbits one of just five teams to be three-time selections.

SDSU’s 3.41 cumulative team grade-point average was tied for sixth in NCAA Division II. In those three years SDSU has compiled a record of 71-27.

“I really believe that success on the court and in the classroom go hand in hand,” Jackrabbit head coach Mary Byrne said. “Receiving this award has been a great honor for the past three years, and we continue to set our goals high.”

The AVCA/Molten Team Academic Award honors college and high school teams that displayed excellence in the classroom by maintaining at least a 3.30 combined cumulative grade-point average in the 1999-2000 school year.

“I thought it was really good to receive the award this year because we had five first-year players, so there’s a transition,” Byrne said. “Our veteran players have served as good role models.”

South Dakota State University, the state’s land grant institution, was authorized in 1881 by the Territorial Legislative Assembly. Territorial council member John O’Brien Scobey, failing to obtain the penitentiary for Brookings, managed to secure Dakota Agricultural College for his city.

Although allocations fell short of the actual cost, the school was able to open in the fall of 1884 because the president, George Lilley, was willing to advance $500 (a third of his salary) to finish three rooms in the new Central building. “Old Central” was soon joined by South (1885) and North (1887), forming the nucleus of campus life for a decade and a half.

Development

During the first year of operation only preparatory classes were held. College classes started in 1885 with five teachers, 17 freshmen and 61 preparatory students. Growth was slow and erratic for many years, but by the turn of the century there were 242 students. By 1990, SDSU had an enrollment of more than 9,000 students with nearly 8,100 at the Brookings campus. It has granted more than 46,500 degrees since the college was chartered in 1881.

Colleges Established

The structure of the college became more complex as enrollments increased. The first nine chairs of instruction, established in 1884, included agriculture, science, mathematics, English, modern languages, military tactics, veterinary science, practical business, political and domestic economy and music. By 1907, the year the name of the institution was changed to South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, there were 22 departments on campus.

Reorganization into the five divisions which formed the basis for the designation of colleges was completed under President Charles W. Pugsley in 1923. In 1964, when “State College” was renamed South Dakota State University, there were six colleges: Arts and Science, Agricultural and Biological Sciences, Home Economics, Engineering, Nursing and Pharmacy, as well as a Graduate Division. A seventh, General Registration, was added later. In 1975, the Division of Education was created, which became the College of Education and Counseling in 1991.

Today, degrees are offered through these colleges:
- Agriculture and Biological Sciences
- Arts and Science
- Education and Counseling
- Engineering
- Family and Consumer Sciences
- General Registration
- Nursing
- Pharmacy
- Graduate School

South Dakota State University is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

State’s Largest

Since 1881, South Dakota State University has grown from a campus of 80 acres to a 271-acre campus with facilities worth more than $220 million. The university owns or leases another 15,000 acres for research throughout the state.

Peggy Gordon Elliott became SDSU’s 18th president on January 1, 1998, following the retirement of Robert T. Wagner.

With more than 8,000 students registered in the fall of 1998, enrollment at SDSU continues to be the largest of the state’s institutions of higher education.

More than 200 majors, minors and options are available with more than 2,500 different course offerings. Master’s degrees are offered in more than 30 areas, and doctorates are available in eight fields. The university also offers degree programs through the Sioux Falls Center for Public Higher Education, RDTN, Internet and off-campus courses are available through the Office of Academic Affairs and Outreach.

Seventy-five percent of entering freshmen are in the upper half of their high school graduating class and 40 percent are in the top 25 percent. Seventy percent are residents of South Dakota, 20 percent come from 46 other states and 41 international countries.

Supplementing classroom instruction are the Harding Distinguished Lecture Series, the F.O. Butler Lectures, and the Amdahl, Schultz-Werth and Griffiths endowments. Students may join more than 100 clubs and organizations that are active on campus.

The university reaches all corners of the state through the Cooperative Extension service and the Agricultural Experiment Station, offering service to seek to improve the quality of rural life. Also at SDSU are: the Center for Innovation, Technology and Entrepreneurship; Engineering Experiment Station; Office of Remote Sensing; South Dakota Transportation Technology Transfer Service; University/Industry Technology Service; Water Resources Institute; Engineering and Environmental Research Center; Animal Disease Research and Diagnostic Laboratory; and the Northern Grain Insect Research Laboratory.

These units help strengthen the university’s growing commitment to research in the areas of energy and water resources, and support of state and local economic development efforts through research and information transfer.

The Northern Great Plains Biostress Laboratory, dedicated in 1993, houses scientists who focus on research aimed at developing new technologies to protect crops and livestock. Research conducted in this facility benefits the entire region.
