For the South Dakota State University volleyball team, the future is now.

With its reclassification period fast-tracked by an NCAA subcommittee, the Jackrabbit volleyball team will be the first SDSU squad eligible for a postseason berth at the Division I level when it takes to the court this fall.

“It gives us a legitimate goal to try to achieve,” SDSU head coach Andrew Palileo said. “It’s a totally new goal for us that we haven’t had the last two years.”

The Jackrabbits will field an experienced team as all six starters and several key reserves return to a squad which finished the 2005 season with a 16-19 record, while playing a schedule entirely against Division I competition.

“We have good balance with our positions, we have depth at every position,” said Palileo, who has compiled a 107-63 record in five seasons at SDSU. “I think the biggest thing will be finding the chemistry to put this team together.”

Because of the amount of experience and the court time the regular players have had together, Palileo sees a number of similarities between the 2006 edition of the Jackrabbits and his first squad, which went on to finish as NCAA Division II national runner-up in 2001.

“Our job as coaches will be to try to get them prepared and then stay out of the way during the matches,” Palileo said.

Leading the way for the Jackrabbits are seniors Kristie Klusaw and Minette Ridenour. Klusaw was a second-team all-Independent selection at setter last season after averaging 11.69 assists per game. As she settled into her second year as the starter, SDSU compiled a .238 team hitting percentage in 2005.

“Kristie’s done a really good job putting our hitters in a position to hit,” Palileo said. “I look for her to continue that and be our stabilizer out there, to keep our emotions in check.”

A first-team all-Independent selection in 2005, Ridenour has been a mainstay in the Jackrabbit lineup at an outside hitting position each of her first three seasons. Last fall, she became the 10th player in SDSU history to top 1,000 career kills, after tallying more than 400 kills for the second consecutive year.

“We want that trend for her to continue,” Palileo said, noting that Ridenour has been around the 400-dig mark each of the last two seasons, as well.

On the right side, junior Kristina Martin is back for her third season in the starting lineup. After earning Independent Freshman of the Year honors in 2004, Martin elevated her game in 2005, joining Ridenour on the all-Independent First Team. Martin, who can also play on the left side, pounded a team-best 490 kills to go along with a .287 hitting percentage as she put herself into a position to join the 1,000-kill club — she enters the season with 841 career kills — early this year.

Back on the left side, the second outside hitting position is expected to be up for grabs between sophomores Mackenzie Angner and Laura Slagter. The duo split time at the position last season, with Slagter posting 2.29 kills per game and a .187 hitting percentage, while Angner contributed 1.90 kills per game and a .185 hitting percentage.

A trademark of the Jackrabbits’ style during Palileo’s tenure has been strong play at middle blocker. This year figures to be no exception as SDSU returns three players with a year of starting experience.

Junior Amy Anderson made a seamless transition from outside hitter to the middle in 2005, setting an SDSU single-season record with 133 block assists (1.21 blocks per game). The Huron native also was a force offensively as she led the team with a .335 hitting percentage, averaging 2.26 kills per game.

Sophomore Emily Rooney returns after a solid first campaign in 2005, during which she averaged 1.96 kills per game, hit .258 and contributed .73 blocks per game.

SDSU also will regain the services of junior middle hitter Carley Boll, who sat the entire 2005 season with a knee injury. In 2004, Boll nearly broke the previous Jackrabbit single-season record for block assists with 123. She also contributed 2.34 kills per game and a .277 hitting percentage in 2004.
Depending on matchups, Palileo said the Jackrabbits could play all three middles at the same time during the 2006 season.
“We could have three players with more than 100 block assists this season,” Palileo said.

Palileo expects the back row to benefit from the added blocking prowess, as well. Junior Samantha Pearson, who handled most of the libero duties in 2005, anchors the back row following a season in which she led the team with 481 digs, an average of 3.94 per game. An honorable mention all-Independent hon- oree, Pearson also finished second on the squad with 37 service aces.
Sophomores Rachel Dahl and Justine Olsen also return to the back row after seeing limited action during their freshman seasons in 2005.
The back row could be bolstered further by incoming freshman Stacey Wernert. A member of Chicago-based Sports Performance, one of the top club programs in the nation, Wernert will likely be the top candidate among the freshmen to crack the regular rotation.
The remainder of the 18-player roster consists of junior Mackenzie Osadchuk, redshirt freshman Elise In’t Veld and incoming first-year players Diedra Artz, Rebecca Poeppe, Amanda Polzin and Jolene Slagter. Slagter graduated from Mounds View High School in the Twin Cities Metro area in December 2005 and joined her older sister, Laura, by enrolling in classes at SDSU and participating in the team’s spring season.
Although the Jackrabbits face an uphill battle to a postseason berth because of their independent status and with it the lack of a conference’s automatic bid, the team can put itself in a good position with its early season schedule. Among SDSU’s opponents in the first few weeks of the season are major conference foes Washington State and Oregon State of the Pac-10, Oklahoma and Iowa State from the Big 12, and perennial Big Ten Conference and national contender Wisconsin.
The Washington State match will be the finale of the season-opening Jackrabbit Kickoff Tournament slated for Aug. 25-26 at Frost Arena. SDSU also will host the Jackrabbit Invitational Sept. 15-16. In all, SDSU will play 12 home matches, starting with a matchup Aug. 25 against North Dakota State.

Home Tournaments
South Dakota State University will host a pair of tournaments during the 2006 season. SDSU will open the season by hosting the five-team Jackrabbit Kickoff Tournament Aug. 25-26. Participating teams in the round-robin tournament include Gonzaga (Wash.), North Dakota State, SDSU, Washington State and Weber State (Utah).
Three weeks later, SDSU will host the Jackrabbit Invitational Sept. 15-16. Teams entered in the tournament are Lamar (Texas), New Mexico State, North Dakota State, SDSU, and UMKC.
All matches will be played at Frost Arena. Complete tournament schedules follow.

South Dakota State University plays its home matches in Frost Arena, named after former Jackrabbit coach and athletic director R.B. “Jack” Frost. Frost served as athletic director and professor and head of the physical education department from 1947 until 1960. He compiled an 86-79 mark in seven seasons as Jackrabbit men’s basketball coach from 1948-54. Frost also was an international leader in recreation, health and physical education, serving in 1965 as the United States representative at the Fifth Session of the International Olympic Academy in Greece.

Frost Arena, which is part of the Stanley J. Marshall HPER Center, can accommodate a volleyball crowd up to 6,000 fans. The first athletic event in the building was held on Feb. 2, 1973.

In the fall of 2005, Frost Arena was included with Coughlin-Alumni Stadium in a $3 million Daktronics scoreboard project. The Frost Arena portion includes a four-sided scoreboard with four ProStar® video screens measuring 12 feet by seven feet, two ProAd® displays measuring 60 feet long by four feet high and a new full-color digital ProTable® scorers table, all of which can display real-time statistics.

Head Coach Andrew Palileo

Andrew Palileo enters his sixth season as head coach of the South Dakota State University volleyball program after leading the Jackrabbits through a successful transition from NCAA Division II to Division I.

In his first season at SDSU, Palileo led the Jackrabbits to the NCAA Division II championship match, closing the 2001 season with a national runner-up finish and a 28-6 record. Prior to winning the first volleyball regional title in school history, Palileo also guided SDSU to a runner-up finish in the North Central Conference, tying a team-best 15-3 mark in league play.

The Jackrabbits nearly repeated that success during the 2002 season, compiling a 28-7 overall record and reaching the North Central Regional title match for the third consecutive year. SDSU also finished second in the North Central Conference with a 12-4 record. During the 2002 season SDSU attained its highest-ever national ranking with a No. 2 showing in the American Volleyball Coaches Association Division II poll for the first three weeks of the season.

Following a 13-19 record during a rebuilding season in 2003, Palileo and the Jackrabbits returned to their winning ways in 2004 by making their debut in Division I a successful one with a 22-12 record. SDSU compiled a 13-6 record against Division I opponents, including a 5-1 mark and second-place finish at the season-ending La Quinta Division I Independent Championships in Orem, Utah.

SDSU again finished as runner-up at the Division I Independent Championships in 2005, wrapping up its final season of its transition with a 16-19 overall mark.

About South Dakota State University
With a record enrollment of 11,021 students in the fall of 2005, South Dakota State University is the state’s largest institution of higher education.

EARTLY HISTORY

Located in Brookings, SDSU was authorized in 1881 by the Territorial Legislative Assembly and serves as the state’s land-grant institution. Territorial Council member John O’Brian Scobey, failing to obtain the penitentiary for Brookings, managed to secure Dakota Agricultural College for his city.

Although allocations fell short of the actual cost, the school was able to open in the fall of 1884 because the president, George Lilley, was willing to advance $500 — one-third of his salary — to finish three rooms in the new Central Building. “Old Central” was soon joined by South (1885) and North (1887), forming the nucleus of campus for a decade and a half.

During the first year of operation, only preparatory classes were held. College classes started in 1885 with five teachers, 17 freshman and 61 preparatory students. Growth was slow and erratic for many years, but by the turn of the 20th century there were 242 students. By 1990, SDSU had an enrollment of more than 9,000 students.

Nearly 50,000 degrees have been granted since the college was chartered in 1881.

COLLEGES ESTABLISHED

The structure of the college became more complex as enrollments increased. The first nine chairs of instruction established in 1884 included agriculture, science, mathematics, English, modern languages, military tactics, veterinary science, practical business, political and domestic economy, and music.

By 1907, the year the name of the institution was changed to South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, there were 22 departments on campus.

Reorganization into the five divisions which formed the basis for the designation of colleges was completed under President Charles W. Pugsley in 1923.

In 1964, when “State College” was renamed South Dakota State University, there were six colleges; today degrees are offered through these eight colleges:

- Agricultural and Biological Sciences
- Arts and Science
- Education and Counseling
- Engineering
- Family and Consumer Sciences

SOUTH DAKOTA STATE UNIVERSITY features a 16-to-1 student-to-faculty ratio. Over the past five years, the average placement rate at SDSU has been 95 percent, with placement in selected majors like pharmacy and engineering approaching 100 percent.

SDSU also offers degree programs through the Sioux Falls Center for Public Higher Education (USDSU). Evening, RDTN, Internet and off-campus courses are coordinated through the Office of Academic Affairs and Outreach.

SDSU BY THE NUMBERS

In its 125-year history, South Dakota State has grown from a campus of 80 acres in 1881 to a 271-acre campus with facilities worth more than $220 million.

The university owns or leases another 15,000 acres for research throughout the state.

A University Student Union expansion and renovation project was completed in the summer of 2005, as was Caldwell Hall, a suite-style residence hall.

Other recent building projects have included:
• Anson and Ada May Yeager Hall (formerly the Printing and Journalism Building), which underwent a $2.1 million expansion and renovation project;
• Crothers Engineering Hall — $7 million expansion;
• Solberg Hall — multi-million dollar renovation;
• Performing Arts Center — $9 million project completed in fall of 2002.

In addition, the Enterprise Institute building, which also houses the SDSU Foundation, was completed in the fall of 2004. The Enterprise Institute is designed to facilitate SDSU and industry resources to encourage and assist the establishment of entrepreneurial growth enterprises in the region.

More than 200 majors, minors and options (see listing on pages 79-80) are available at SDSU with more than 2,500 different course offerings.

Master’s degrees are offered in more than 30 areas and doctorates are available in eight fields.

SDSU is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and numerous departments on campus have earned accreditation from various agencies.

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH

The university reaches all corners of the state through the Cooperative Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station, offering service seeking to improve the quality of rural life. Also at SDSU are the Center for Innovation, Technology and Entrepreneurship; Engineering Experiment Station, Office of Remote Sensing; Water Resources Institute; Engineering and Environmental Research Center; Animal Disease Research and Diagnostic Laboratory; and Northern Grain Insect Research Laboratory.

These units help strengthen the university’s growing commitment to research and support of state and local economic development efforts.

The Northern Great Plains Biostress Laboratory, which was dedicated in 1993, houses scientists who focus on research aimed at developing new technologies to protect crops and livestock.

SDSU also has been selected as one of five universities to serve as a regional center for the Sun Grant Initiative. The Sun Grant Initiative is a concept to solve America’s (continued on next page) energy needs and revitalize rural communities with Land-Grant university research, education and Extension programs on renewable energy and bio-based non-food industries.

Supplementing classroom instruction are the Harding Distinguished Lecture Series, the F.O. Butler Lectures, the Lusk Lecture and the Andahl, Schultz-Werth and Griffiths endowments.

Students also have the opportunity to choose from more than 200 clubs and organizations active on campus.

MUSEUMS AND ATTRACTIONS
The educational opportunities don’t end in the classroom or laboratory as South Dakota State University is home to several facilities, including museums and gardens, which highlight South Dakota history and heritage.

The South Dakota Art Museum, which recently completed an expansion, was first envisioned by the South Dakota Federation of Women’s Clubs in 1949, and dedicated in 1970. The museum’s collections include early Sioux Indian art, the famed Harvey Dunn paintings of pioneer life and the exclusive Vera Way Marghab linens.

The State Agricultural Heritage Museum transformed the former Stock Judging Pavilion into a home for exhibits that record and preserve the agrarian heritage of South Dakota.

The 70-acre McCrory Gardens and South Dakota Arboretum, located south and east of campus, provide a beautiful setting for area residents and tourists to enjoy a stroll through the radiant colors and fragrances of one of the top 10 small ornamental gardens in the nation. It is also recognized as an All-American Display Garden, one of only 13 in the nation.

In 1993 McCrory Gardens was designated an All-American Judging Garden to conduct research on annual flowers.

Since 1985, private contributions have made many new gardens possible including the Rose, Rock, Centennial Prairie, Iris, True Lily, Mum, Native Prairie Collection, Oak Tree Memorial Garden, All-Red Specialty Garden, Peony Garden, Shrub Rose Collection, and Children’s Maze.

In August 1994 dedication ceremonies were held for the Mickelson Grove Memorial in honor of former governor and Brookings resident George Mickelson.

In 1982, the area north of the formal garden was dedicated to the planting and testing of ornamental trees and shrubs. The 45-acre site was designated the South Dakota State Arboretum in 1988.

The arboretum’s purpose is to test woody plants needed to protect agricultural fields and livestock from the region’s harsh environment, to provide hardy trees to shade our towns and cities, and to test ornamental shrubs for both durability and beauty.

The arboretum and gardens are managed by the SDSU Horticulture, Forestry, Landscape and Parks Department. More gardens and tree and shrub collections are being developed.

Perhaps South Dakota State’s most recognizable landmark is the 165-foot Coughlin Campanile, the state’s largest chimes tower. A climb of 179 steps leads to a panoramic view of the city.

The statuesque structure on the west end of campus was a $65,000 gift from 1909 engineering graduate Charles Coughlin, who later went on to become head of the Briggs & Stratton Corporation.

Coughlin laid the campanile’s cornerstone on June 10, 1929. Since then, its chimes have called students to classes with the famous Westminster peals.

An alumni-sponsored project to restore the campanile was completed in the summer of 2001.

Adjacent to the campanile, Coolidge-Sylvan Theatre has provided a restful, green haven for students since its dedication by President Calvin Coolidge in September 1927.

Over the years the outdoor amphitheater has been the site of concerts, graduations and inaugurations for university presidents.

Woodbine Cottage, the home of the university president, is a charming example of Queen Anne architecture. Built in 1887 by South Dakota Agricultural College’s second president, Dr. Lewis McLouth, the home is crowned by multiple roof lines.

The house also has served as a women’s dormitory, music hall and infirmary.

STATE’S LARGEST LIBRARY

The Hilton M. Briggs Library, the state’s largest, was opened in 1977 and joined South Dakota’s statewide automated library network in 1988. Through the library, users have access to holdings from all 10 of the state’s libraries, including official documents and more than 1 million other holdings at Briggs.

THE BROOKINGS COMMUNITY

Today, Brookings is a growing community of about 18,500 people. Located 20 miles west of the Minnesota border and 50 miles north of Sioux Falls in east-central South Dakota, Brookings is situated at the intersection of U.S. Highway 14 and Interstate 29.

The community also is home to several recognizable companies including Rainbow Play Systems, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing (3M), Larson Manufacturing, and Daktronics, a leading manufacturer of scoreboards and display systems.

THE COUGHLIN CAMPANILE is SDSU’s most recognizable landmark.
