1967 JACKRABBIT PROSPECTS

Practically every Jackrabbit football season has opened on an optimistic note and the 1967 grid year will be no different.

Coach Ralph Ginn expects his '67 grid edition to have more and balance than last year's squad which fashioned out a 3-7 w

However, Ginn, a veteran of 20 seasons in the North Central Conference, knows a good season depends on many factors in addition to self improvement.

Some 24 lettermen will spearhead Jackrabbit hopes this season. A young squad last year, the Jacks have matured a year. However, they are still a young squad with 33 of the 44 members being either sophomores or juniors.

Coach Ginn and his assistants were pleased with spring practice, especially with the way the squad moved the ball on offense.

The Jacks backfield on offense is pretty much back intact, headed by fullback Darwin Gonnerman and halfback Jim "Tod" Macik.

The pair led SDSU rushing game last year. Gonnerman gained 552 net yards for the season and Macik 471. A spirited fullback, Gonnerman averaged 3.5 yards per carry and Macik 5.4. Gonnerman led the league in punt returns and was second in kickoff returns.

Macik, who presents a great break-a-way threat, tallied 54 points for the Jacks last year. He also helped with the punting chores.

Perhaps the biggest loss from the 1966 squad was revealed this spring when Bob Hoeg, a starting halfback, was advised not to participate in football.

After a pair of mild concussions, one last fall and another this spring, Hoeg was advised, following a check-up, to end his grid career.

The 5-9, 180-pounder, was third in total rushing for the Jacks with a 4.6 average per carry and always a threat to pick up the needed yardage for the first down.

Hoeg, who started at fullback last year and later switched to halfback, perhaps followed his blockers and found the holes in the defensive line as well or better than any back on the squad.

Expected to help at the halfback slots are juniors Jon Naujokas and Monty Frazier and sophomores Tom Settie and Dick Magnuson.

Naujokas, a top defensive back last year, showed well in spring ball as a wingback on offense. Frazier is the speedster of the squad and may have a great football future.

Settje, an all-around athlete, has good speed and desire. Magn may be used either on offense or defense.

A big question lies at quarterback for the Jacks. Battling for the starting assignment will probably be junior Tom Anderson and sophomore Tom Ball.

Anderson was hobbled by injuries last year, but showed signs of being a top-notch quarterback. Ball show potential this spring, but lacks experience.

The Jacks interior line will be anchored by seniors Wayne Onken, 228, and Tom Hamlin, 231. Both men could be considered among the top linemen in conference.

Eight lettermen were lost via graduation, including several who had key parts in victories posted last season.

The end spot was hit the hardest. Gone are ends Mike Buss, Terry Sorensen and Rick Dietz. Showing the most potential this spring to fill in at end are sophomores Clyde Hagen, 6-3½, 221; and Terry Hagin, 6-2, 181; and junior John Thomas, 6-4½, 196. Thomas, a starter also on the basketball team, is in his first year of collegiate football.

Also gone from 1966 squad are Dave Porter, a defensive stalwart; Gary Hyde, fullback; Bob Nelson, kicking specialist; and Pat Durkin, quarterback.

Co-captains Ray Macri, a rugged defensive tackle and Clayton Sonnenschein, reserve fullback and fine defensive back, should give the Jacks good leadership.

Ex-Jackrabbits in NFL Prove Value of Small-College Players

Who says small-college football players can't make it in the "bigome"? South Dakota State has had 16 former gridders go on to play in the National Football League, including four who were drafted and 12 free agents (the NFL draft was begun in 1939). The NFL has drafted 12 other ex-Jackrabbits who did not play.

Best-known ex-Stater in the NFL was Pete Retzlaff, 11-year veteran end for the Philadelphia Eagles. Acquired by the Eagles from Detroit in 1956 for the standard waiver price of $100, Pete went on to become one of the league's top receivers. "It was the best $100 the Eagles ever spent," according to General Manager Vince McNally, Retzlaff's best season was 1965 when he hauled down 66 passes for 1,190 yards and 10 TDs (third in the league). He was named to the all-NFL team, played in the Pro Bowl and was named Pro Player of the Year. Retzlaff ranks third among all-time NFL pass receivers with 452 pass receptions for 7,412 yards.

Wayne Rasmussen, drafted in 1964 by the Detroit Lions, is a former State gridder currently playing pro ball. A defensive back, he had a fine year last year with the Lions.

Retzlaff, Rasmussen, Meyer and Dominic Klawitter, center for the Chicago Bears in 1956 (an injury cut short his career), are the NFL players who were drafted. SDSU has produced almost half (15 or 36) of the NFL draftees from the North Central Conference, according to a survey by NFL publicity officials. Next in line are UND with five; NDSU and USD, each with four; SCI and Augustana, each with two; and Morningside with one.

Quarterback Ron Meyer, drafted in 1965 by the Chicago Bears, is the latest former Jackrabbit to try out in the big league. End Ed Maras also was drafted in 1965 by the Green Bay Packers, but declined in favor of a pro baseball contract with the Baltimore Orioles.

Constructed along with the 10,500-seat stadium in 1962, the $23,000 facility is 100 feet long and 10 feet deep. It has six three-man booths and four two-man booths, plus a 40-foot working area with a capacity for 24 persons. State University was the only college in the nation in 1964 to earn the 'Press Box Merit Award" from the Football Writers Association of America for providing "outstanding press box working facilities.'

SDSU Marching Jackrabbit Band Adds Zip to Home Football Games

One of the best Upper-Midwest university bands, the SDSU Marching Jackrabbit band appears at all home games, providing rousing marches and smart formations for State's football partisans.

The 155-member band is one of the most sought after in the North Central Conference. It will appear at a Minnesota Vikings professional game this fall for the sixth consecutive year. In the five previous appearances at Vikings' games, the Marching Jackrabbits have been on national television four times.

So far the band has received invitations to appear at Minnesota Vikings, Green Bay Packers and Winnipeg Blue Bombers games. The band is being considered by CBS as a representative of the Northern-state bands for one of the pro-bowl football games. Complementing the band are five majorettes, two drum majors and about 30 alternate musicians.

Warren Hatfield, director of bands

A 1952 graduate of State College of Iowa, he was appointed director of bands at State in 1961, after serving four years as a high school music director and four years as a bandsman in the U. S. Air Force. Hatfield earned his master's degree in 1959 at the University of Iowa. While on a sabbatical leave at Iowa studying for his doctorate in 1965-66, he was assistant director of Iowa's band on a three-month tour of the Soviet Union and Europe. He and his wife, Gretchen, are parents of two children.

John Colson, associate director

Joining State's staff in 1965, he served as band director during Warren Hatfield's sabbatical leave. Colson earned his bachelor's degree in 1955 and his master's degree the following year at the University of Iowa. Before coming to SDSU he directed high school bands in Iowa and Colorado. He and his wife, Nancy, are parents of three sons.

SOUTH DAKOTA STATE UNIVERSITY

South Dakota State University is beginning its 83rd year of continuous service to South Dakota and the region. Founded by act of the Territorial Legislature passed on February 21, 1881, the first building was erected in 1883 and classes began September 24, 1884.

SDSU, the state's land-grant institution, is the largest institution of higher education in the state with a fall enrollment predicted at 5,100. It is one of 68 land-grant institutions established under the Morrill Act of

The University campus is ornamented with many varieties of beautirees and shrubs, and laid out with necessary walks and drives. Ading to the east are the horticulture gardens, and to the north, northeast, and northwest are the college farms.

Approximate value of equipment and the University's physical plant, which includes over 70 buildings, is $40 million. The University owns a total of 1,580 acres in the Brookings area. When the substations and Camp Lakodia are included the total acreage is 4,591.

The University is composed of six colleges—Agriculture and Biological Sciences, Engineering, Home Economics, Nursing, Pharmacy, Arts and Science—and the General Registration Division. Graduate studies are offered and advanced degrees awarded in a variety of fields.

SDSU is the first institution in the state to hold full accreditation for doctoral programs from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Full accreditation for Ph.D. study is offered in agronomy, animal science, agricultural economics and plant pathology. Preliminary accreditation is offered in chemistry and sociology

Brookings, site of the University, is located in the eastern part of the state just 20 miles from the Minnesota border and 60 miles north of Sioux Falls, the state's largest city. The city is situated on the Chicago and Norhtwestern Railway, on U. S. Highways Number 14 and Number 77 and has regular airline service at the Brookings Municipal Airport.

Intercollegiate competition is carried on in eight sports—football, cross country, basketball, wrestling, indoor and outdoor track, baseball, golf and tennis. League titles are settled in each.

The University is a charter member of the North Central Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, joining in 1921.
