Seven Medals to be Presented to Debate Members March 23

At the annual Forensic Society Banquet which will be held at the Just-a-mere Tea Room on March 26, 10 o'clock a.m., the following Aggie Debate Team will be presented with Standard Forensic Medals, in recognition of their work in debate this year.

They are Mark Jones, Brandon; Henry Killam, Farmingdale; Gayl Kochenderfer, Albion, Mont.; Eugene Kinney, Bruce; David Bradley, Fargo, N. D.; Earl McPherson, Sturgis, and Glenn Snever, Washington.

The last debate that the Aggies won were in front of the Minnesota School of Agriculture on March 2. The negative team, composed of Gayl Kochenderfer, Mark Jones and Henry Killam went to Morris to meet the Minnesota affirmative team there the same night that their negative team came to Brookings to meet the Aggie affirmative team, which was upheld by Bishop A. P. McCutcheon, Bishop A. B. and Glenn Snever.

At Morris the negative team lost by two votes. The affirmative team was definitely more effective, and affirmative were given the decision here by Judge, Chris Merton. The Society college affirmative squad, which gave a critical decision. Other debates that the team have had have been with Brookings High and Lemmon High.

The team made a trip to Lemmon to meet their teams on February 26, and were defeated in one and the other was a non-decision debate.

Visitors Point of Interest in Sioux Falls on March 6th

The Senior class, accompanied by their class advisor, Mr. Eddy, and Mr. Stitt, Miss Bryan and Mrs. Reif, visited the points of interest in Sioux Falls on March 6th. The trip was again conducted by the quoted Class, those who made the trip, was very well worth it.

The group made the trip by bus, arriving in Sioux Falls at about 3:30 in the afternoon. The first point of interest visited was the Marcellus Power plant. This is a combination clean steam and water-power plant. The water is conveyed by a 34-mile tunnel from the Sioux river and the water power is used to furnish power and light for the surrounding country.

The group next visited the Bell Telephone building. Each telephone line enters the building containing about a thousand lines and the wires are so arranged that the talk can be as quickly as efficiently transmitted. The class found that there was a great deal to run on the telephone and that answering calls was not an easy task. The group next visited the State Penitentiary. The prison operates a thrice-weekly newspaper, the prisoners work in these papers. Their first job, however, is to earn their keep by working on the farm and not working they must stay in their cells. The prison maintains a library with books for the prisoners. The group is interested in the number and number of books for the prisoners, for we know that we may never see some of them again. If it wasn’t for this, graduation would be a much more cheerful event.

The class is interested in the number and number of books for the prisoners, for we know that we may never see some of them again. If it wasn’t for this, graduation would be a much more cheerful event.

The faculty is not mentioned in the report, as no one of that group of men was present. Of course, they will all apply to the one or two, we know that they are going to work on the farm and that some of them will be very happy to see the others, and that the others will be very happy to see the others. Those of our students who graduate in the next three years will be very happy to see the others, and that the others will be very happy to see the others. Those of our friends who graduate in the next three years will be very happy to see the others, and that the others will be very happy to see the others.

Juniors, seniors, and freshmen are proud of you all and the smiles will be forced when we say farewell, on graduation day.

HUMOR

Enice Warner and Raymond Evin were engaged in an absorbing conversation.

"What are anarchists?" asked Enice.

Raymond swelled with wisdom and replied: "They want everything anyone else has and they never wash their hands."

"Oh yes," said Enice with enthusiasm, "I see—they are just little boys grown up."

HUMOR

"Rastus, I hear that you have married your wife. "Vesah, how! ja just had to—— she was dead."

First Hunter: "We are lost!"

Second Hunter: "Holy smokes! Let's shoot another deer so the game warden will find us."

He: "Wanna go?"

She: "Oh, I'd just love it!"

He: "Just a minute and I'll catch you one."

Mrs. Newrich: "What is that?"

Mr. Newrich: "Just a common red squirrel."

Mrs. Newrich: "Should I notice it?"

Class Dismissed

A teacher was giving his class a lecture on charity. "Willie," he said, "if I saw a boy beating a donkey and stopped him from doing so, what virtue would I be showing?"

Willie (promptly) "Brotherly love."

Class Tournament

The annual class basketball tournament was won by the Freshmen who won five out of six games. The average standing player made 34 points. The scores are as follows: Senior-Juniors 12, Sophomores 8, Freshmen 10, Sophomore 8, Freshmen 7, Juniors 16, Sophomores 7.

Wednesday—Freshmen 11, Seniors 13, Sophomores 7, Thursday—Seniors 14, Juniors 6.

The interest shown was great. Alfred Duprel, Stur-gold, held the winning cup. He will be awarded to the next team that wins the cup.

It is the belief among educators connected with the School of Agriculture that on the campuses where they are held, the tamer and the interest shown have a direct bearing on the future of the students. This was followed by several musical numbers by Ralph Olson and Harold Kinsey.

The Freshman party was given in the Old Chapel on Friday evening, the thirteenth. The program was sponsored by a speech given by Julian Hegge, class president and then a selection on the piano by Evelyn Goos, entitled, "The World is Waiting for the Star." The Sioux Valley Jucrion Professional Liars, who were Alfred Duprel and Waldo Smith gave some parts to entertain the audience. This was followed by several musical numbers by Ralph Olson and Harold Kinsey.

The Senior-Freshman awards for the Senior Class were as follows: President, Laurence Killam, Richardson, Eddy as hosts and hostesses. After the after-meeting the time was spent socially. Whi'llio's colors were given by Mr. Revel, several musical numbers by Earl Miller and Alice Latiff, and new members were initiated. The commencement of the evening was spent in playing parlor games and singing. A delicious lunch was served by the hosts and hostesses.

Little International

The annual Little International Grain and Livestock show held on February 20, was a decided success, and was one of the high spots of Farm and Home Week, judging by the number who attended, and the interest shown.

Laurence DeHann, Geddes, who graduated from the School of Agri-culture last year, won the grand championship gold medal for sheep. Albert Muller, Muro, won the gold medals for horses. Lester Thomas, Muro, won the gold medal for hogs. Morna Albrecht, Marion, champion male dairy animal. Alfred Duprel, Stur-gold, champion male beef.

Laurence DeHann again demonstrated his ability in the evening by winning the showmanship content in sheep, receiving a silver loving cup. Many booths were on display, showing the latest in agriculture. The school of agriculture booth consisted of a toy train running around the campus.

The following evening a banquet was held in the Student Union for those who took part in the International, all cups and medals were formally presented at this time. This affair was what is hoped to be the first annual recognition banquet of the Little International.

SUCCESS

The work of the Senior Class of the School of Agriculture is drawing to a close. Recently a list of the occupations was made and all the regular occupation shown. The main project to follow was taken and according to this list, graduation will be this year. The graduating class will end school for the majority of them at this date. Whether they go on to school or enter some other occupation there is one goal they all strive to reach and that goal is success. Success will have many varied meanings to them but the following is an answer from an unknown author that expresses them all.

"It's your job the best you can make it; and be proud of what you do. Make it a success in your line, and you'll be happy. And be proud of yourself. And nothing is more important than being true to your own ability and ends. And figure how and why, and looking forward and thinking high, and dreaming a little and doing much; it's keeping always in closest touch with what is finest in word and deed; it's daring blithely the field of chance. While making labor a romance; it's going onward despite defeat; and fighting staunchly, but keeping sweet; it's being clean and its playing fair; it's laughing lightly at Dame Despair; it's looking up at the stars above; and drinking deeply of life and love; it's struggling on with the will to win; But taking loss with a cheerful grin; it's sharing sorrow, and work and smith; and making better this good old earth; it's serving through strain and stress; it's doing your nobest—that's Success."

New Members Taken into Forensic Society

Frank Revel, and Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Eddy as hosts and hostesses. The Forensic banquet will be held at the Justasone Tea Room March 23. The new members will be given the gavel of membership symbol as full member of the society. Edith Slocum, the president, will present pins to all the new members. "Oud" Scarboro will present medals to the following new members: Mark Jones, Henry Killman, and David Bradley in recognition of their work in Inter-academy debates; and Alice Latiff, Wynona Worrall, Joseph Neul, and Eugene Kinney for their participation in the Inter-academy contest.

Annual Field Day to Be Held Again by the Junior R. O. T. C.

The Aggie R. O. T. C. will hold their annual field day again this year on Friday, March 20. This is a competition meet between the two companies to decide which one will win the cup that is offered to the winning company. This cup has been won the last few years by Company G. The results of the inspections during the year will count towards the final results. The field day itself will consist of mostly athletic contests and competitions between squads and platoons of the two companies. Plans for it are now made. Also in connection with the Field Day, drill down will be held between the Fresh, Soph, and Junior men in the manual of arms and drill. The competition will start with four members from the three classes named, and the high point men will be presented with a gold medal in recognition of their outstanding ability in the drill. A medal will also be presented to the best commanding officer and at this time medals awarded to the Rifle team members will be presented.

The Aggie Council recently nominated Glenn Sweeney, Wessonling and Earl McPherson, Sturgy for the office of Students Association President. Homer Henriks, Sturgis, was nominated by petition. The candidates will give their speeches before a special assembly March 19, and the election will take place immediately afterward.

COMMENDATION ADDRESS BY P. E. MILLER

Mr. Miller states that these people are taking an ever increasing part in the social, economic and political activities of their respective communities. It is the belief among educators connected with the School of Agriculture, that when we can have graduates of these schools on a larger number of our farms, that we will lay the foundation for the solution of many of our farm problems.

P. E. Miller holds membership in honorary societies of Alpha Zeta, Gamma Sigma Delta, and Sigma Nu.
