LOCAL SCHOOL UNITS IN SOUTH DAKOTA

IV. SCHOOL DISTRICT ATLAS, BY COUNTIES

W.F. Kumlien

Where Kingsbury County Public School Districts With Closed Schools Sent Their Remaining Elementary Pupils During the 1943-44 School Year

Kingsbury County has 68 districts and 48 schools that are still operating. Another 24 schools, all common, have been closed during the past few years. Out of those closed, 8 schools or 34% are sending their remaining pupils to neighboring common schools while 16 schools or 66% sent their remaining pupils to nearby town schools. For the state, as a whole, 60% of the remaining pupils from closed schools attend neighboring schools as tuition pupils while 40% attend town schools.
EXPLANATORY NOTE

This pamphlet is the third to be published in a projected series of four, carrying the general title of "Local School Units in South Dakota." The pamphlet, 2, entitled "School Attendance Areas" will be published later. Appropriate sub-titles for each of the field covered are:

(1) School Districts
(2) School Attendance Areas
(3) Special Problems of the Small High School
(4) School District Atlas, by Counties (this pamphlet)

The main purpose of this pamphlet is to furnish (1) a detailed series of county maps portraying all of the 3069 different types of public schools, (2) the location of all operating common schools in each county with their enrollment as of 1943-44, (3) the location of all common schools which are closed and from which their respective districts are sending the remaining pupils as tuition students either to neighboring common schools or to town schools, (4) a summary at the end in which is given the number and percent of closed schools and indicating where each of such school has sent its remaining pupils for 1943-44. The data in this study was obtained principally from two separate questionnaires, one sent to county superintendents, and the other sent to town and consolidated superintendents.

Acknowledgements are due to both groups of superintendents answering the questionnaires, and to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for furnishing certain basic materials. The author also acknowledges the valuable help of Mr. O.C. Scandrette, Research Assistant, who helped prepare certain parts of this report.
