ABSTRACT

John E. Miller was a professor of history at South Dakota State University, where he taught courses in recent American history, South Dakota history, and historical methods since 1974. He was the author of many books and articles on Midwestern politics, creativity, Laura Ingalls Wilder, small town culture and other American history topics. Material consists of course material, oral history interviews, talks, presentations, workshops, Laura Ingalls Wilder, writings, and research.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Dr. John E. Miller was born March 28, 1945, in Beloit, Kansas to Channing and Mildred Miller. As the son of a Lutheran minister, he grew up in several towns in Kansas, Illinois, and Missouri. Dr. Miller received a B.A. in history from the University of Missouri -- Columbia (1966) and an M.A. (1968) and Ph.D. (1973) from the University of Wisconsin -- Madison. While pursuing his education, he also served as a court reporter in the U.S. Army in Vietnam and taught for the University of Maryland Overseas Program (1969-1970).

After receiving his Ph.D., Dr. Miller spent a year as a visiting assistant professor of history at the University of Tulsa (1973-1974). In 1974, Dr. Miller accepted the position of assistant professor of history at South Dakota State University. He was promoted to associate professor in 1978 and full professor in 1984. He taught courses in historical methods, South Dakota history, and U.S. history focusing on the 20th-century. He retired in 2003, however, he remained on staff as an adjunct professor for a short time to teach the South Dakota history course. In October 2003, the South Dakota Board of Regents bestowed Dr. Miller with the title of Professor Emeritus of History. After retirement, he taught numerous Osher Lifetime Learning Institute (OLLI) courses.

Dr. Miller was a prolific historian; he authored, edited, and reviewed numerous books and articles, mainly on history, but also on politics, creativity, literature, and small-town life. His most noteworthy books included: Looking for History on Highway 14 (1993), Small Town Dreams: Stories of Midwestern Boys Who Shaped America (2014), Becoming Laura Ingalls Wilder: The Woman Behind the Legend (1998), and Democracy's Troubles: Twelve Threats to the American Ideal and How We Can Overcome Them (2020). He also wrote South Dakota State University: A Pictorial History 1881-2006 for South Dakota State's 125th anniversary in 2006.

In addition, Dr. Miller also conducted hundreds of hours of oral history interviews with national and local individuals. He interviewed World War II veterans; South Dakota State University administrators, faculty, and staff; and residents of small towns in South Dakota, including Miller, Bruce, and Harrold. He also interviewed people such as George McGovern, Philip La Follette, Rollie Samp, Theodore Schultz, Frank Denholm, John Bibbey, and Frank Farrar. In addition, he directed the Department of History's Brookings Oral History Project in the 1970s.

He was involved with many professional organizations such as the South Dakota Humanities Council, the South Dakota State Historical Society, Phi Kappa Phi, the Midwestern History Association, and the Dakota History Conference. He also served on many church and community committees.

During his impressive career, Dr. Miller received several awards. These include the Burlington Northern Foundation Award for Excellence in Research (1988), the Mountain Plains Library Association Literary Contribution Award (1993), the South Dakota Board of Regents Award for Excellence in Research (2000), and the Herbert S. Schell Award for the most outstanding article in South Dakota History (2001). For his book, Becoming Laura Ingalls Wilder: The Woman Behind the Legend, Dr. Miller won the WILLA Award in 1999 for the best scholarly non-fiction book on North American West women writers. He was also a finalist for the WILLA Award in 2009. In 2003, he was presented with the Robinson Award, the highest and most prestigious honor given by the South Dakota State Historical Society. In 2015, Dr. Miller was awarded the Frederick Jackson Turner Award for a lifetime achievement in the field of Midwestern history by the Midwestern History Association.

John and Kathy Miller married in 1972 and raised two children, Ann and Tom. John Edward Miller died May 1, 2020, at his home in Brookings, South Dakota.

ARRANGEMENT

The collection is organized into series:

- General Material
- Course Material
- Friends and Colleagues
- Interviews
- Talks, Presentations, etc.
- Laura Ingalls Wilder
- Writings
- Research
- Audiovisual and Electronic Media

CONTENTS NOTE

The John E. Miller Papers are composed of course materials, correspondence with colleagues and friends, writings, and research materials collected and created by Dr. Miller during his career. The bulk of the collection consists of his research on Laura Ingalls Wilder and other topics, such as politics, culture, and South Dakota history and people. The papers have been arranged into nine series: general material, course material, friends and colleagues, interviews, talks and presentations, Laura Ingalls Wilder, writings, research, and audiovisual and electronic media.

GENERAL MATERIAL

The general material series contains files related to Dr. Miller's life outside of teaching and writing. He was involved with many organizations, such as the South Dakota Humanities Council, the South Dakota State Historical Society, Phi Kappa Phi, the Midwestern History Association, and the Dakota History Conference. Included in the files are correspondence, photographs, awards, and articles about Dr. Miller.

COURSE MATERIAL

Dr. Miller taught many courses during his tenure on the faculty of the Department of History at South Dakota State University. Courses include U.S. history, South Dakota history, American economic history, and methods and philosophy of history. After his retirement, he taught Osher Lifetime Learning Institute [OLLI] courses on many topics such as the Great Depression, U.S. presidents and legislators, and democracy. This series is comprised of course notes, exams, and other material related to his teaching career.

FRIENDS AND COLLEAGUES

This series is composed of material gathered on friends and colleagues, such as Chuck Cecil, Paula M. Nelson, and Gilbert Fite. Included in the files are correspondence, articles, news clippings, and photographs.

INTERVIEWS

Dr. Miller conducted many oral history interviews throughout his career. The collection includes interviews with important historical figures, including George McGovern and John Wooden, as well as prominent members of the South Dakota State University community. Some of these interviews include transcripts and permission forms, but not all. He recorded his early interviews on audiocassettes, and later recorded them on digital recorders.

See the audiovisual and electronic media series for listings of the recordings.

TALKS AND PRESENTATIONS

This series contains documentation on talks, presentations, and workshops given by Dr. Miller throughout his career. He also served on panels at conferences, including the Dakota History Conference and Laurapalooza.

LAURA INGALLS WILDER

Dr. Miller was one of America's leading authorities on Laura Ingalls Wilder and Rose Wilder Lane, having written numerous books and articles on the Wilders. The collection contains 16 boxes of research on Wilder, her work, and her life. Specifically, the series includes Dr. Miller's writings, handwritten notebooks, critiques of other authors' works on Wilder, articles and news clippings, and annotated photocopies of collected research related to Wilder.

WRITINGS

Dr. Miller wrote many articles, chapters, books, encyclopedia entries, and reviews during his career. The files contain his manuscripts, books, articles, book proposals, notes, and correspondence with other authors and publishers.

RESEARCH

The largest series in the collection consists of research material created and collected by Dr. Miller for various projects. Included in the 40 boxes are handwritten notebooks, writings, publications, books, and photographs. In addition, there are handwritten annotated notes on photocopies of articles and clippings from newspapers, magazines, scholarly journals, books, and research gathered during his many trips to archives, historical societies, and libraries. Topics found in the files include politics, elections, democracy, U.S. and South Dakota history, sports, small towns, and creativity. There are also documents regarding individuals such as Johnny Carson, Lawrence Welk, Sam Walton, John Wooden, Walt Disney, George McGovern, Karl Mundt, and Alvin Hanson. Of particular interest are documents relating to Brookings County history, Hubert B. Mathews and Hubert Jean Mathieu, the Brookings County Democratic Party, South Dakota State University, and other files from his book projects. Dr. Miller used these documents for his writings and in teaching his courses at South Dakota State.

AUDIOVISUAL AND ELECTRONIC MEDIA

This series consists of 231 audiocassettes and electronic files on 10 digital recorders, 17 CDs, one DVD, 18 USB flash drives, and 24 SD cards. These materials are comprised of oral history interviews, recordings of events Dr. Miller participated in and attended, images, and manuscripts and notes from his writings and research.
